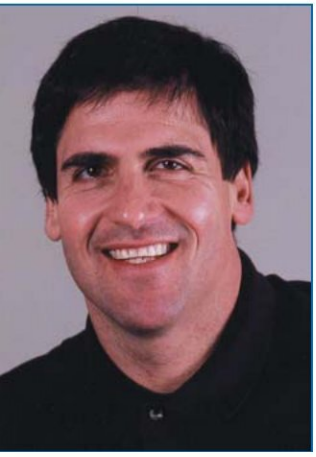
OWNER



MARK CUBAN

Since Mark Cuban purchased the Dallas Mavericks on January 4, 2000, the face of the organization has changed dramatically.

Under his leadership the team's home games have become more than just ordinary NBA games – they have become a total entertainment experience. The party atmosphere he helped instill with the return of the "Reunion Rowdies" carried over into the creation of the "Mavericks ManiAACs" at the American Airlines Center.

Cuban's whatever-it-takes attitude and commitment to winning have grabbed everyone's attention. From his first introduction to the team to the end of his first season as owner, the players responded with a 31-19 record, including a 9-1 mark in April. The organization's upward trend has continued in the past two years as the team won 53 games and advanced to the Western Conference Semifinals in 2000-01 and set a franchise record for wins in a season (57) and again advanced to the second round of the playoffs in 2001-02. In addition to hiring special coaches for offense, defense and shooting, Cuban has continued his promise to do everything in his power to improve the team.

Cuban has been successful at bringing a sense of pride and passion into Mavericks fans – presenting himself as the ultimate role model, cheering from the same seats he has had for several seasons. He is the first owner in team sports to encourage fan interaction through e-mail. It was through this personal touch that fans throughout the Metroplex, and around the world, began to notice Cuban's energetic personality and take notice of the Mavericks. He has personally responded to hundreds of thousands of e-mails. Several suggestions from fans have led to innovative changes.

Prior to his purchase of the Mavericks in January of 2000, Cuban co-founded Broadcast.com, the leading provider of multimedia and streaming on the Internet. Broadcast.com was sold to Yahoo! Inc. in July of 1999. MicroSolutions, a leading national systems integrator, was founded by Cuban in 1983 and later sold to CompuServe.

Today, in addition to his ownership of the Mavericks, Cuban is the owner and chairman of HDNet, the world's only all high-definition national television network. mark.cuban@dallasmavs.com

PRESIDENT/CEO

TERDEMA USSERY

Terdema L. Ussery II is in his sixth year as President and CEO of the Dallas Mavericks. Ussery also serves as an alternate governor for the Mavericks on the NBA Board of Governors and as a member of the WNBA Board of Directors.

Ussery came to Dallas after serving as president of Nike Sports Management. Prior to that he was commissioner of the Continental Basketball Association (CBA).

In his first season with the Mavericks, he led a successful campaign which resulted in funding for the American Airlines Center. Once the plans were underway, Ussery was actively involved in securing the naming rights partnership with Dallas/Fort Worth-based American Airlines for the downtown facility and played a key role in the development of the building.

His impact has been evident in the growth of both the Mavericks business operation and community participation. Under his direction, the club has experienced increased corporate sponsorship, ticket sales and television revenues.

Ussery grew up in the Watts section of South Central Los Angeles. He went on to earn a bachelor's degree in 1981 at Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. He earned a master's degree in 1984 from the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard. In 1987, Ussery earned a law degree from California, where he served as executive editor of the California Law Review.

Ussery practiced business and entertainment law in the Los Angeles office of the San-Francisco based firm Morrison and Foerster, before joining the CBA as its deputy commissioner and general counsel in 1990. In April 1991 he was named CBA Commissioner. His two-and-a-half-year term was highlighted by rapid growth and much-needed stability. While CBA commissioner, Ussery was profiled in Sports Illustrated, The Wall Street Journal and USA Today.

In August 1993 Ussery was named president of Nike Sports Management. While reporting to Nike Chairman & CEO Phil Knight, Ussery's responsibilities included marketing Nike's pro athletes and negotiating contracts. Twice, while at Nike, Ussery was included on The Sporting News' annual list of the 100 most powerful people in sports.

In the fall of 1999, then Texas Governor George W. Bush appointed him to a six-year term on the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board. In addition, Ussery sits on several other corporate and community boards and serves as CEO of HDNet, the nation's first high-definition television network.

Ussery, a popular speaker who is active in the Dallas/Fort Worth business community, has taught as an adjunct professor at several graduate institutions, including the University of Denver's Graduate School of Business Administration, where he taught Business Ethics and Corporate Governance. terdema.ussery@dallasmavs.com

GM/HEAD COACH

DON NELSON

Mavericks General Manager/Head Coach Don Nelson owns 40 years of NBA experience as a player, coach and general manager. In league history, only Lenny Wilkens has more combined games as a player or a coach. Nelson also has 24 years of service as an NBA general manager.

Nelson has been at the helm of the Mavericks dramatic turnaround during his tenure in Dallas. In 2001-02 Nelson led Dallas to the most wins in franchise history with 57. He and his staff also earned the honor of coaching the Western Conference All-Stars to victory during the annual mid-season classic. The team also posted the best road record in the NBA, going a franchise best 27-14, and led the league in scoring at 105.2 points per game.

During the 2000-01 season, Nelson led the Mavericks to their third 50-win season in franchise history, their first playoff appearance in 11 years, their first winning season in 11 years and the then-best road record in franchise history. The team also posted a winning record each month for the first time in 13 years. Nelson finished third in the league's Coach of the Year voting for his efforts.

Each of the past two seasons, Nelson's Mavericks have advanced to the Western Conference Semifinals. In 2001-02 the team completed its first sweep of a playoff series by defeating Minnesota 3-0 in the first round and the previous season became just the sixth team in NBA history to overcome an 0-2 deficit to win a five-game series as they defeated Utah in the first round.

The early signs of improvement by the Mavericks under Nelson were quite evident from early-on in his Dallas career. Four years ago the team won 19 games in a shortened season, which would have equated to 31 in a full year. Then during the 1999-2000 campaign, Nelson led the Mavericks to a 40-42 record which included a 9-1 April which was the best month in team history.

Nelson is the third-winningest coach in NBA history with a record of 1,036-806 (.562). He reached the 1,000-victory milestone on December 29, 2001 as the Mavericks defeated Atlanta.

He and Pat Riley are the only coaches ever to be named Coach of the Year three times (1983, 1985 and 1992). He was chosen one of the Top 10 Coaches in NBA History by a panel of former coaches, players and media selected by the NBA in commemoration of the NBA at 50 celebration. He coached Dream Team II to a gold medal at the 1994 World Championships in Toronto. The front-office architect of the Milwaukee Bucks' seven consecutive division title teams from 1979-1986, as well as the force behind the revival of the Golden State Warriors into a perennial playoff team in the late '80s and early '90s, Nelson has established himself as one of the NBA's premier basketball executives over the last three decades.

As a general manager, Nelson's drafting credits include the selection of all-stars Marques Johnson (using a pick Nelson had acquired from Buffalo in exchange for Swen Nater), Sidney Moncrief, Mitch Richmond, Tim Hardaway, Tyrone Hill, Chris Gatling, Latrell Sprewell, Chris Webber and Dirk Nowitzki. In addition to those stars, Nelson has also shown an eye for finding role players who would eventually blossom in the NBA on winning teams, including John Starks (who would go on to make an all-star appearance), Sarunas Marciulionis, Mario Elie and Vincent Askew.

Taking over the duties of executive vice president for Golden State in 1987-88, Nelson built the club from a 20-62 squad that first season into a 55-27 club by 1991-92. Nelson took on the dual roles of head coach and general manager in 1988-89. Despite being plagued with injuries during his tenure at Golden State, the Warriors would go on to post two 50-win seasons and four playoff appearances in his seven-and-a-half seasons in the Bay Area. By comparison, Golden State had failed to make the playoffs in nine- of-10 years prior to Nelson's arrival and have not been back to the postseason since his departure.

One of Nelson's keys to success during this span was his ability to take lower first-round draft picks and turn them into players who in time would prove they should have been taken higher. From 1989-92, without a pick higher than 11th overall, Nelson chose four future all-stars (Hardaway, Hill, Gatling and Sprewell). Out of eight overall first-round picks from 1988 through 1993, the Warriors selected six future all-stars (Richmond, Hardaway, Hill, Gatling, Sprewell and Anfernee Hardaway). Needing a big man to complement the Warriors' nucleus, Anfernee Hardaway was later traded to Orlando for the rights to Chris Webber, who went on to win NBA Rookie of the Year honors.

In Milwaukee, Nelson was promoted to head coach/director of player personnel in November of 1976 after beginning the season as a first-year assistant to Head Coach Larry Costello. Taking over a team which would finish 30-52 (sixth in the Midwest Division) in 1976-77, Nelson would mold a club which would post seven straight division titles between 1979-86 and seven straight 50-plus win seasons between 1980-87. His 1980-81 Bucks squad finished with a 60-22 mark. The cornerstones of his Bucks teams were two players he drafted (Johnson and Moncrief) and a third he acquired in a trade, Hall-of-Famer Bob Lanier (from Detroit in exchange for Kent Benson and a draft choice which turned out to be Larry Drew). In 1984, Nelson injected youth into an aging squad by packaging Johnson, Junior Bridgeman and Harvey Catchings to the L. A. Clippers in exchange for future all-stars Terry Cummings and Ricky Pierce, plus Craig Hodges. Since Nelson's departure following 1986-87 (that team finished 50-32), Milwaukee had not won 50 games in a season until 2000-01, when the club finished 52-30 and was the Central Division champion.

Nelson also made one other stop as an NBA head coach, compiling a 34-25 (.576) record with the New York Knicks in 1995-96.

In 14 seasons as an NBA player, Nelson averaged 10.3 ppg on .480 shooting with 4.9 rebounds in 1,053 games. He was drafted by the Chicago Zephyrs in 1962 (19th overall) and played one season before his contract was sold to the Los Angeles Lakers. After two seasons in L.A. he was waived and signed as a free agent by the Boston Celtics in October, 1965. In 11 seasons with the Celtics, he was a member of five NBA Championship teams (1966, 1968, 1969, 1974 and 1976). His retired No. 19, honoring his career as one of the game's greatest "sixth men," was raised to the Boston Garden rafters in 1978.

Born May 15, 1940, in Muskegon, Michigan, Don Arvid Nelson, who stands 6-6, was a two-time All-America at Iowa, where he graduated in 1962.

Don married Joy Wolfgram on June 19, 1991, in a ceremony on the Warriors' court in Oakland Coliseum. Nelson has five grown children, Julie, Donn, Christie, Katie and Lee.

Nelson, whose interests include golf, motorcycles and country & western music, is quite generous with his time when it comes to giving back to the community. He helped build a playground and has helped rebuild houses as part of the Mavericks TeamUp Day. Nelson hosted 1,000 kids at the Mavericks' practice facility as part of a month-long "Nellie's Training Camp Challenge." don.nelson@dallasmavs.com

BASKETBALL STAFF

DONN NELSON

PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS/ASSISTANT COACH

One of the most respected minds in the NBA, Donn Nelson was promoted to his position of President of Basketball Operations for the Mavericks on July 1, 2002. Nelson also serves as an assistant coach. He was originally hired by the team as an assistant coach on Jan. 2, 1998.

Nelson, who brings 18 years of NBA experience to the Mavericks, came to Dallas after three seasons as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Suns.

"He's one of the hardest working coaches I've been around," said Michael Finley, who spent his first season with the Suns. "In Phoenix he was one of the first coaches on the floor at practice working with me, and one of the last coaches to leave. He helped bring my game to the next level."

The past two seasons Nelson has successfully coached the Mavericks while his father and head coach Don Nelson has missed time. While the elder Nelson was recovering from cancer surgery in 2000-01, Donnie led the team to a 13-3 record. In 2001-2002 he was 2-0 as the head coach.

During the summer of 2000 he led the Mavericks Summer League squad to championships in both the FILA Summer Pro League and the Rocky Mountain Revue. He has also led the Warriors and the Suns to Summer League titles. He was the top assistant to his father at Golden State, where he served the organization a total of eight seasons ('86-'94). Nelson was also a regional scout for the Milwaukee Bucks for two seasons ('84-'86).

Nelson has participated in the last three Olympiads as an assistant coach for Lithuania. In those Olympic Games, he helped Lithuania earn bronze medals, and under his leadership the squad earned a silver medal in the 1995 European Championships. He also served as a scout for Dream Team II, which captured the gold medal at the 1994 World Championships.

While with the Warriors, he was responsible for signing the first player from the former Soviet Union to an NBA contract (Sarunas Marciulionis). Nelson also holds the honor of being the only American coach to participate in a Soviet National training camp.

In March of 1998, Nelson served as an assistant coach for a team of international all-stars during the Nike Hoop Summit, held in San Antonio during the 1998 Final Four. Nelson and the Mavericks played host to the top American and international high school players the week prior to the Hoop Summit. Dirk Nowitzki led that squad of international players to a victory over the top American high school players. In the summer of 1998 Nelson led a Nike clinic series through China, becoming the first NBA coach to do so. Nelson has also held clinics in Nigeria, China, Lithuania and Australia.

He returned to China in 1999 after the Mavericks became the first team in NBA history to draft an Asian player in China's Wang Zhizhi. Wang became the first Chinese-born player to play in the NBA when he signed with the Mavericks on April 4, 2001.

Nelson is the founder of the "Global Games" in Dallas which features top junior national teams from around the world. The games completed their third season this past summer.

An active member of the community, Nelson spearheaded "Nellie's Training Camp Challenge" in which the Mavericks coaching staff hosted 1,000 area students at a basketball camp series at the Mavericks practice facility.

A 1986 graduate of Wheaton (Ill.) College, Nelson was inducted into the school's Hall of Honor on October 3, 1997. He led Wheaton in scoring and was an NABC All-Midwest selection.

Born September 10, 1962, he and his wife, Lotta, have a daughter, Christie (8/9/92); and son, D.J. (5/24/94).

DEL HARRIS

ASSISTANT COACH

Del Harris is in his third full season as an assistant coach for the Mavericks after joining the franchise during the last two months of 1999-2000 in the role of defensive coordinator. During his time with the Mavericks, the team has posted an impressive 125-59 (.679) record.

Harris is one of the most experienced coaches in the NBA, becoming the 20th coach to record over 500 wins. With 13-plus years as a head coach, he has compiled a 556-457 overall record with three different teams. In his last eight full seasons, Harris' clubs won over 400 games.

After being named head coach of the Los Angeles Lakers prior to the 1994-95 season, Harris compiled an impressive 218-110 record (.665), highlighted by the 1997-98 season's 61-21 mark, the best record ever for a Harris-led club. He joined Pat Riley as the only coach in L.A. franchise history to register three consecutive 50-plus wins in a season (53 in 1996, 56 in 1997 and 61 in 1998). The Lakers winning percentage went from .585 to .646 in 1995-96, .646 to .683 in 1996-97 and .683 to .744 in 1997-1998. In that span, only eight coaches have had a higher winning percentage in four straight years with the same team.

In 1994-95, during Harris' first season with the Lakers, Los Angeles recorded its fourth-largest single-season improvement in club history, capturing 15 more victories than the previous year (33 to 48). That year Harris received the NBA Coach of the Year award, joining Bill Sharman (1972) and Pat Riley (1990) as the only coaches in team history to earn the honor. In his last three seasons with Los Angeles, the Lakers scored the most total points in the league. Also in 1997-98, the Lakers became only the third team in NBA history to lead the league in scoring while holding the opponents below 100 points per game for the season.

Prior to joining the Lakers, Harris coached in Milwaukee, where he guided the Bucks to four consecutive playoff appearances and compiled a 191-154 overall record (.554) in his four-plus seasons as the head coach (from 1987-88 through the first part of 1991-92). Milwaukee enjoyed such successes despite annually leading the NBA in player games missed due to injuries. During his tenure at Milwaukee, the Bucks established several franchise records, including longest home-winning streak (18), free throw percentage (.820, a then-NBA record) and steals (894).

Before assuming Milwaukee's head coaching position in June of 1987, Harris served as the Bucks scout and assistant coach under then-head coach Don Nelson (1983-1987).

Del landed his initial NBA job with the Houston Rockets in 1976, spending three years as an assistant coach under Tom Nissalke. The Rockets promoted Harris following Nissalke's departure prior to the 1979-80 campaign. He led the Rockets to playoff berths his first three seasons, highlighted by a trip to the 1981 NBA Finals where Houston lost to the Boston Celtics in six games. The Rockets established a then-NBA record during their march to the Western Conference Championship that season, winning eight games on the road during the playoffs, including the decisive game over the Lakers at the Forum in the first round.

Harris took a short break from coaching for two seasons after leaving the Bucks and prior to joining the Lakers. He remained close to the profession, serving as a consultant with the Sacramento Kings in a variety of functions, including scouting NBA and college players. He held that position until accepting the Lakers offer in 1994.

The 65-year-old Plainfield, Ind. native has flourished at virtually every level, including the NBA, collegiate, overseas and high school ranks. His reputation for extracting the most out of his teams is well documented. As the head coach for Earlham College (Indiana), he led the team to a school record 176 victories and the first three conference championships in the school's history during his nine-year stint there. Harris also gained international experience as he coached seven seasons in Puerto Rico (1969-75), posting a 176-61 record and winning three national championships.

Harris has also developed many young players into All-Stars in the NBA. In four years at Los Angeles, he had five different players make the All-Star Team, four for the first time (Cedric Ceballos, Eddie Jones, Nick Van Exel and Kobe Bryant). He had three players make the All-Rookie Team, including Jones, Bryant and Travis Knight. He also worked with Moses Malone at the Utah Stars and Houston Rockets in Malone's developmental years.

In the summer of 1998, Del served as one of the assistant coaches for the bronze medal-winning Team USA at the World Championship of Basketball in Athens, Greece. He was joined by Mike Jarvis and Lon Kruger on head coach Rudy Tomjanovich's staff.

Harris attended Milligan College in Tennessee, where he graduated cum laude in 1959 with a degree in religion. He earned a master's degree in history from Indiana University in 1965.

Del and his wife, Anne, have one son, Nick, who is in the seventh grade. He has four children from a previous marriage, sons Larry, Alex and Stan and daughter Carey. del.harris@dallasmavs.com

SIDNEY MONCRIEF

ASSISTANT COACH

Sidney Moncrief is in his third season as an assistant coach with the Dallas Mavericks. He joined the Mavericks coaching staff after spending one year as the head coach at the University of Arkansas-Little Rock.

From 1979-1989, he played for the Milwaukee Bucks under then-head coach Don Nelson and then-assistant coach Del Harris.

Moncrief played 10 seasons with the Bucks from 1979-89. After a one-year retirement in 1990, he finished his career with the Atlanta Hawks in 1991. During his career, "Sir Sid" averaged 15.6 points and 4.7 rebounds per game. He was a five-time All-Star (1982-86), a two-time NBA Defensive Player of the Year (1983, 1984) and was named to the All-NBA team five times (1982-86).

Moncrief is a 1979 graduate of Arkansas where he earned a degree in education. He is still the Razorbacks school record-holder in rebounds (1,015), free throws (588) and free throw attempts (752). He also is the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,066 points. He averaged 16.9 points and 8.3 rebounds in his college career. As a senior, he was named to the All-America team after leading Arkansas to the 1979 NCAA Final Four.

CHARLIE PARKER

ASSISTANT COACH

Charlie Parker is in his seventh season as an assistant coach, joining the club's coaching staff in the summer of 1996 after eight years at Southern California. Parker was head coach at USC in 1995-96 after six years as assistant under George Raveling. He assumed the role of interim head coach Nov. 14, 1994, and finished out the 1994-95 season in that capacity.

Parker, 52, was head coach at Wayne State from 1983-88. During his tenure, he posted a record of 120-56 (.682) and established himself as the winningest coach in school history. Averaging 20 wins each season, the Tartars won the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title three times. In addition, the 1985-86 squad finished with a record of 24-7, advancing to the NCAA Division II National Quarterfinals. In his last five seasons at Wayne State, all of Parker's teams finished in the top 20 in various Division II polls and made three tournament appearances. While at Wayne State, Parker was honored as the GLIAC Coach of the Year on two occasions (1984 and 1987) and was also heralded as the Michigan Coach of the Year in 1984. He was inducted into the Wayne State Athletic Hall of Fame in 2001.

Prior to his time at Wayne State, Parker spent six seasons as an assistant coach at Bowling Green. His coaching career began in 1972 at his alma mater, the University of Findlay (Ohio), as both an assistant basketball coach and head track/cross country coach. Parker received his master's degree in education at Bowling Green in 1974. Parker received an honorary doctorate from Findlay in 1995.

Parker graduated from Findlay in 1972, after earning a bachelor's degree in health and physical education and a minor in sociology. While an undergraduate, he had a decorated career in both basketball and track. He was elected to the school's Hall of Fame in 1989. He was elected into the Hancock County (OH) Sports Hall of Fame in April of 1998.

Parker and his wife, Lori, have a son, Christopher (4/15/98). Parker has five other children: Sharmelle (1/26/75), Charles, Jr. (8/3/77), Cameron (4/4/82), Sharee (11/16/83) and Lyndie (12/9/92). charlie.parker@dallasmavs.com

KEITH GRANT

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Keith Grant is in his 22nd season with the Mavericks and serves the team as assistant general manager.

In July 1996, Grant, whose career with the Mavericks began prior to the 1980-81 charter season, was promoted to vice president of basketball operations after serving as director of player personnel from 1994-96. From 1990-94, he served as the club's director of scouting. In 1984, Grant served as administrative assistant/scout. His responsibilities were expanded to include advance pro scouting prior to the 1986-87 season when Dallas went 55-27 and won the Midwest Division. He is actively involved in the organization of the NBA's Chicago pre-draft camp.

Born on Jan. 3, 1958, Grant began his pro sports career at the age of 12, serving as a bat boy for the Oklahoma City 89ers AAA baseball team. He held several positions during his 12-year stint with the club. Prior to graduating from Oklahoma City University in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in business management, he played four years of varsity baseball, spending three years on the OCU basketball staff in varying roles.

Grant, who served as the Arlington Stadium organist from 1982-84, is an avid baseball fan and golfer. He and his wife, Nancy, live in Lewisville with their children, Jennifer (11/17/86), Melissa (6/16/88) and Brian (8/7/92). keith.grant@dallasmavs.com

LARRY RILEY

ASSISTANT COACH/ADVANCE SCOUT

Larry Riley is in his third year as the Mavericks' advance scout and first as an assistant coach.

Riley came to Dallas after spending two seasons with the Grizzlies where he was the organization's director of player personnel. He oversaw the team's scouting of professional, college and international players and advised the team on all player-related transactions.

Riley, 58, joined the Grizzlies after spending seven seasons with Milwaukee as an assistant coach and scout beginning in 1992. With the Bucks he was responsible for advance scouting of NBA opponents, CBA, USBL and college scouting. He originally joined the Bucks in 1988 as a scout and video coordinator.

Prior to being hired by Milwaukee, Riley was the head coach at Eastern New Mexico from 1978-88 where he developed the program into an NAIA powerhouse and helped them move up to NCAA Division II.

Riley has 34 years of basketball coaching and administrative experience including being the head coach at Chadron State in Nebraska from 1976-78. He was an assistant coach at Southeast Missouri State (1969-70), Wisconsin-Milwaukee (1970-73), Brevard Community College (1973-74) and Mercer (1974-76).

A 1966 graduate of Chadron State with an honors degree in education, Riley was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1993. He received a master's degree in education from Southeast Missouri State in 1970.

Larry and wife Renae have two children – Ryan (25) and Ashlee (18) – and reside in Lantana, Texas. larry.riley@dallasmavs.com

MAVERICKS SCOUTS

ROLANDO BLACKMAN

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

One of only two players in Dallas Mavericks history to have his number retired, Rolando Blackman is in his third season on the team's player development staff. Blackman had his number 22 retired on March 11, 2000.

Blackman played 13 years in the NBA – 11 with the Mavericks and two with the Knicks. He was originally drafted by the Mavericks in the first round (9th overall selection) of the 1981 draft. He played on six Dallas playoff teams.

The four-time NBA All-Star played with the Mavericks from 1981-92 and is the team's all-time leading scorer with 16,643 points. Overall he appears in the Top 10 in 19 different statistical categories in Mavericks history. He holds Maverick records in field goals (6,487) and field goal attempts (13,061), free throws made and attempted (3,501-4,166) and starts (781). He owns a total of 50 Dallas regular season, playoff and rookie records including consecutive games without fouling out (865), consecutive free throws made (45) and highest season free throw percentage (.898 in 1991-92).

This summer Blackman helped led Germany to a bronze medal at the World Basketball Championships in Indianapolis as an assistant coach.

Rolando has four children and resides in Plano. rolando.blackman@dallasmavs.com

BRAD DAVIS

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Brad Davis is in his third full season with the Mavericks in the player development area. This marks his second term as a coach with the team.

Davis, who over the last 22 years has served the Mavericks as a player, coach and community services/camps representative, is also in his sixth season as the club's color analyst on ESPN 103.3 FM.

In 1993-94 Davis did analysis on Mavericks road television games and served as radio analyst on home games. He also contributed radio analysis on home broadcasts for the first part of the 1992-93 season before spending the final 48 games of that season as an assistant coach to Mavericks interim head coach Gar Heard.

During the offseason Davis continues his love of coaching by working with promising college and high school athletes to prepare them for the NBA.

From 1993-95 Davis was a Mavericks assistant coach on Dick Motta's coaching staff. In 1992 Davis retired as one of only 15 players in NBA history to play 15 NBA seasons. He is the Mavericks all-time leader in games played at 883. On Nov. 14, 1992, Davis became the first Maverick to have his jersey retired when his No. 15 was raised to the rafters. Davis was the final member of the Mavericks 1980-81 charter season team to retire. He lasted eight years longer with Dallas than any other member of that squad.

Davis won five straight Favorite Maverick Awards from 1982-86. He holds the Mavericks record for most consecutive three-pointers without a miss (10). For his NBA career, Davis averaged 8.2 ppg on .510 shooting in 961 games. As a Maverick, Davis averaged 8.6 ppg on .510 shooting with 5.1 assists in 883 games. He began his career as a Lakers first-round draft pick (15th overall) out of Maryland in 1977. brad.davis@dallasmavs.com

PAUL MOKESKI

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Paul Mokeski is in his second season with the Mavericks in the player development area.

Mokeski has a brought of wealth of knowledge to the Mavericks big men. Prior to coming to the Mavericks, he spent three years as a head coach in CBA and USBL and another three seasons as an assistant coach on the CBA and Division I college basketball levels.

Mokeski spent 12 seasons in the NBA with five teams – Houston, Detroit, Cleveland, Golden State and Milwaukee. Following his NBA career, which spanned from 1979-91, he played for one season in France.

He played his college ball at Kansas where he was a four-year starter and averaged 12 points and nine rebounds per game. He was an All-Big Eight selection his junior and senior years.

He was a high school All-American at Crespi (Calif.) High School where he graduated in 1975.

STEVE LETSON

VICE PRESIDENT OF OPERATIONS & ARENA DEVELOPMENT

Steve Letson is in his 19th season with the Mavericks and serves as the primary Mavericks representative in all areas for the development of the American Airlines Center. Letson is responsible for all game night and behind the scenes operations.

Letson joined the Mavericks in 1984-85 as the club's ticket manager. That season began a run of eight-straight in which the Mavericks sold at least 12,500 season tickets, including a six-year run (1985-91) when Dallas reached its self-imposed limit of 14,000 season tickets. From 1984-85 through 1990-91 the Mavericks played to 98 percent of Reunion's 17,007 capacity.

Letson was promoted to director of operations in 1987 and served in the dual role of director of operations and marketing in 1992-93 before being promoted to vice president of operations in 1996. From 1979-82 Letson served as the assistant baseball coach at Kent State where he also earned his masters degree in sports administration. Prior to joining the Mavericks, Letson worked in the athletic department at SMU from 1982-84.

Born March 7, 1956, in Phoenix, Arizona, Letson earned an education degree at Texas Wesleyan College, where he was also an outfielder on the baseball team.

A Dallas resident, Letson's hobbies include physical fitness, golf, the music of Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers, and Robert Parker's series of Spenser detective novels. steve.letson@dallasmavs.com

GEORGE KILLEBREW

VICE PRESIDENT OF CORPORATE SPONSORSHIPS

George Killebrew is in his fifth season as the Mavericks vice president of corporate sponsorships. He joined the organization in 1991 to head up all sales and marketing for then Mavericks-owned Dallas Sidekicks soccer team. He eventually became an account executive in the Mavericks sponsorship group, then the manager of the department, director and now vice president.

Each season, under his tenure, sponsorship revenue has increased over the previous year, with the 2001-2002 campaign breaking all previous records.

Killebrew represented the Mavericks on all sponsorship negotiations for the American Airlines Center, starting with the naming rights agreement with American Airlines and moving on to the Flagship Partner program, a program designed to include elements from the Mavericks, the Stars and the new Center all packaged together into one agreement.

Prior to coming to the Mavericks and Sidekicks, Killebrew was a sports marketing manager for Professional Sports Publications and Learfield Communications and served as the associate executive director of The Mustang Club in the SMU Athletic Department.

Killebrew was born and raised in Honolulu, Hawaii and is a 1985 graduate of SMU with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He serves on the Board of Directors of the SMU Athletic Forum.

A collector of sports cards and sports memorabilia, Killebrew enjoys running, racquetball and cooking. He and his wife Anne live in Dallas with their son, Nash (6/8/01). george.killebrew@dallasmavs.com

MATT FITZGERALD

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

Matt Fitzgerald is in his third year as the organization's senior vice president of marketing and communications. He oversees all the marketing, advertising, promotion, broadcasting, communications and merchandising activities for the club. Under his direction, the Mavericks have undergone a complete identity overhaul, including the introduction of a new logo, uniforms and colors in 2001.

Fitzgerald joined the Mavericks in April of 2000 after three years of working for Coca-Cola USA as a senior marketing manager. At Coca-Cola he was responsible for the development of the consumer marketing plans and regional marketing programs for the Central Account Group.

Prior to working at Coca-Cola, Fitzgerald was the senior brand manager for Smirnoff Vodka where he directed marketing activities for brands carrying the Smirnoff name. Before his stint with the spirits company, he served as an account executive at Flair Communications Agency, one of the nation's largest full-service marketing and sales promotion firms. At Flair he was responsible for new business development and account management for a number of the company's major clients.

Born and raised in Chicago, Fitzgerald received his bachelor of science degree in marketing from Purdue and completed coursework in graduate studies at RPI in Hartford, Conn. He has been a guest speaker at the University of Connecticut and Southern Methodist University as well as a seminar leader in the Coca-Cola Approach to Brand Building workshop.

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Floyd Jahner is in his second season as chief financial officer with the Mavericks.

Jahner, a long-time Mavericks season ticket holder, came to the team in April 2001 from Marc USA where he served in the same capacity from July 1998. Prior to this he was the assistant director of Policies and Procedures at Ernst & Young where he was responsible for the development of firm-wide internal accounting policies and procedures.

His experience also includes ten years of real estate development and management accounting with Temple-Island Properties Inc. and five years in public accounting.

Jahner graduated from the University of Mary in Bismarck, North Dakota in 1981 with a double major in accounting and business administration.

He and his wife, Deb, reside in Plano, with their children Jordan (10/11/86), Tyler (4/30/89) and Michael (6/21/91). floyd.jahner@dallasmavs.com

GEORGE PROKOS

VICE PRESIDENT OF TICKET SALES & SERVICES

George Prokos is in his third season with the Mavericks after joining the organization in February of 2000.

Prokos is in charge of directing the organization's efforts toward strengthening ticket sales and customer service. Season ticket sales have increased tremendously under his leadership and he filled one of the key roles in the transition into the American Airlines Center.

Prokos joined the Mavericks after spending 15 years in sales and marketing management within the automotive aftermarket. Prokos has experience in the developing, packaging and marketing of new and unique products that have been instrumental in reshaping companies to compete in an ever-changing market place. Prokos works directly with Mavericks owner Mark Cuban on creating and implementing original ideas for both season-ticket holder renewal retention and sales.

The Ann Arbor, Michigan native has spent the last 20 years in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. Having traveled extensively over the previous 10 years, he is quick to point out just how great a city Dallas is, and that it's "one of the greatest sports towns in America."

Prokos and his wife Deana enjoy spending their free time raising their son Niko (4) and daughter Emerson (2). An avid sports fan, Prokos also enjoys exploring his artistically creative talents, and is an all-around handyman.

MAVERICKS

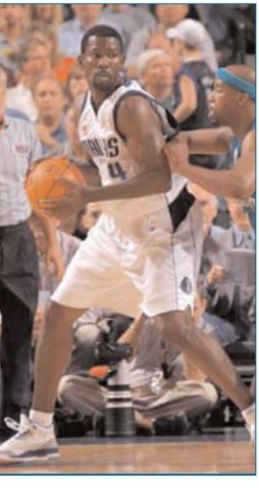
A FIRST-CLASS ORGANIZATION

From the team's own Boeing 757 to televisions and stereos in every locker, team owner Mark Cuban has made sure the Dallas Mavericks are nothing but first class. The considerable upgrades Cuban has made since purchasing the team in January of 2000 include the following:

- Five-star hotels on the road, such as the Four Seasons, Ritz-Carlton and the Trump International.
- Since 2001 the team has traveled on its own Boeing 757 which has been configured to have everything an NBA player would want, or need, to enjoy the shortest or longest flight the team must take.
- The Mavericks bench is equipped with specially-designed chairs that offer back support and extra padding.
- Both teams' players also enjoy postgame buffets in the locker room catered by some of the finest restaurants in Dallas.
- Every locker is equipped with a flat-screen 13-inch television monitor, a stereo, DVD player, CD player and a Playstation. The locker room was voted "Best in the NBA" by Sports Illustrated.
- Players also have the best in towels and robes for pre- and post-game use.



"I am more convinced than ever that the pieces are falling into place for us to seriously contend for the NBA championship. I want to be a part of it.

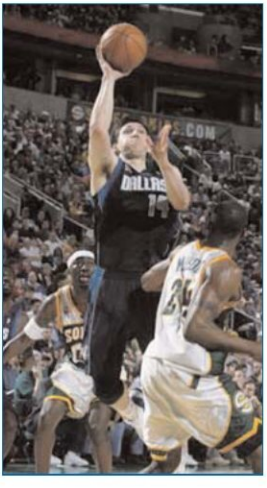
"No other team could sell me better than the Mavericks. Dirk and I are cornerstones, and I didn't want to break that up. For me to break that up would be a slap in the face not only for the organization but to the city itself."

Michael Finley
Two-time NBA All-Star after re-signing with the Mavericks in the summer of 2001.

"This is the place to be. This is the team of the future. Last year we fell short of our long-term goal. But we're young and going to have a large window. I feel good to be a part of it.

"I knew that coming here I'd be able to play in the playoffs, be on a great team and have the chance to play for something."

Raef LaFrentz, who was acquired in a trade during 2001-2002.



"Why would I want to leave (Dallas)?

"I'm close to the University of Oklahoma. I'm close to home [in Mexico]. I play for the hottest team in the NBA, and I play for the best owner in the NBA."

Eduardo Najera on re-signing with the Mavericks

"Mark (Cuban) came in and he's done a great job in terms of changing the franchise around. All of the amenities are there. A lot of players dream to come to this franchise and play.

"This is where I want to retire. Me and my wife, we planned to move back to Dallas anyway next year and to raise our kids here. I'm just privileged to be able to come back and play and be able to live in this city. It's my second home, and I'm going to make it my first home for the rest of my life."

Popeye Jones when he signed with the Mavs.

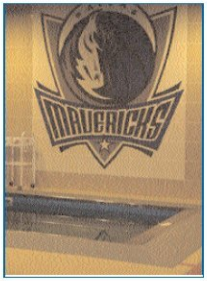
"There was no question since Day One that I would stay here. I love it here, I love Dallas and I love the fans. I feel very comfortable here.

"I love playing basketball for the Dallas Mavericks. We have a great organization and great fans. I am very happy that I will continue to play in Dallas."

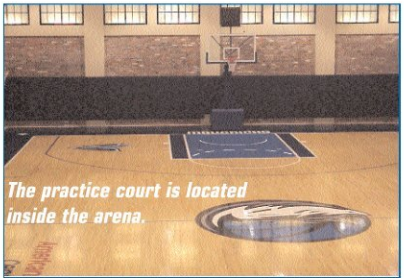
Dirk Nowitzki
2001-2002 Second Team All-NBA
2002 NBA All-Star

MAVERICKS FACILITIES

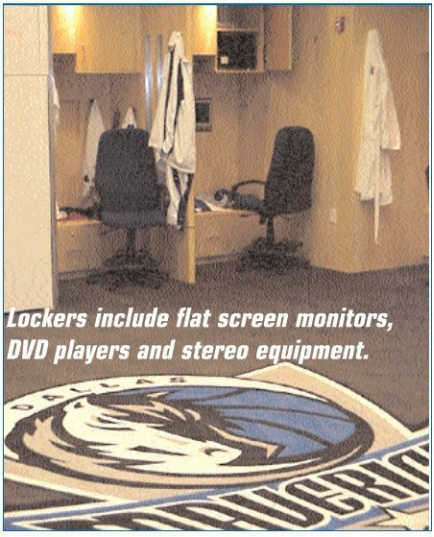
Playing in a state-of-the-art arena means high-quality facilities for the players. These facilities are the talk of the NBA. Media outlets from around the country, including USA Today and Fox Sports Net, have reported on how great the Mavericks' facilities really are. Here is a look at just some of the amenities the Mavericks locker-room area has to offer.



The Mavericks are one of the few teams in the NBA to have a hydro-therapy pool.



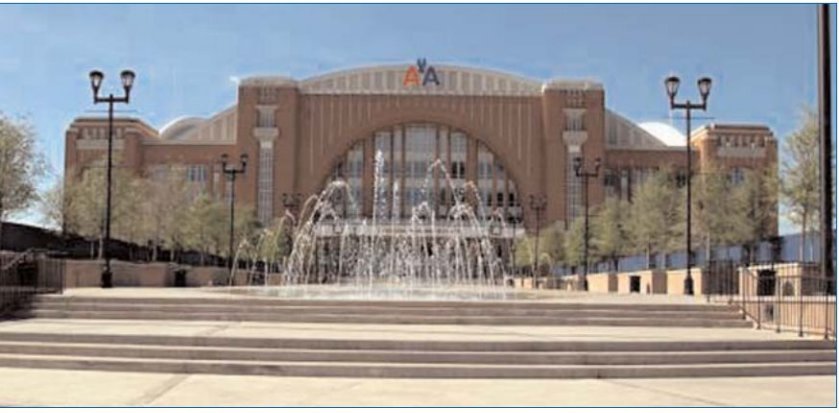
The practice court is located inside the arena.



Lockers include flat screen monitors, DVD players and stereo equipment.

AMERICAN AIRLINES CENTER

THE HOME OF THE MAVERICKS



Dallas has set a new standard with the country's premier sports and entertainment venue…American Airlines Center – the ome of the Dallas Mavericks. Along with the best minds in architecture and entertainment, the city and the owners of the Dallas Mavericks and the Dallas Stars have meticulously crafted the best sports facility in the country…American Airlines Center.

American Airlines Center is vastly different from Reunion Arena in many ways, including the seating configuration. The Center rovides for improved sight lines and intimate feel in every area despite the larger capacity. There are two additional courtside ows across from the team benches, and the wide track around the court was eliminated to improve sight lines in the rows closest o the floor to create a more intimidating atmosphere for the opponent.

The Platinum Level includes fine restaurant dining with seating that overlooks the downtown skyline or the game. This exclu- ive level also includes private conference centers and specialty food and drink bars.

American Airlines Center sits on the northwest shoulder of downtown Dallas amid a 70-acre emerging development called ictory. Victory is an engine for continued downtown revitalization, with more than 6 million square feet of entertainment, retail, esidential and office space planned.

The Center is a grand complex with sweeping vistas and inviting passages. It comprises five concourses, 142 suites and room or 19,200 fans for Mavericks basketball. Designed by world-renowned architect David M. Schwarz and Dallas-based HKS, Inc., merican Airlines Center is a combination of traditional architecture and hi-tech wizardry. Outside, the signature arches are warm nd inviting. Inside, the retractable seating brings the bowl in closer to the action, allowing fans a more intimate experience and xceptional sight lines.

American Airlines Center is the most technologically advanced sports and entertainment venue in the country. From the roStar® VideoPlus scoreboard to the Internet-ready seats, tech-savvy owners like Mark Cuban, Ross Perot Jr. and Tom Hicks were ommitted to making sure the building was wired to support today's technology as well as the technology of the future. The Center its on a buried superhighway of fiberoptic cable, so it was easy for designers to give the facility the most cutting-edge techno- ogical amenities available today. And the Center will stay on the cutting edge for years to come. Builders have installed extra aceways, ductwork and conduit for wiring that isn't even available yet. Extra large utility closets are available for technology not et invented.

AMERICAN AIRLINES CENTER HISTORY

The City of Dallas, the Dallas Mavericks and the Dallas Stars formed a private/public partnership to construct American Airlines Center in downtown Dallas. As a result, the Mavericks and Stars committed to remain in Dallas for 30 years. American Airlines Center, the anchor of the Victory development, will transform an industrial site into what Ross Perot, Jr. calls a new "gateway" to downtown Dallas. The partnership between the City and the teams was announced on Oct. 3, 1997, with the Dallas City Council approving a Master Agreement on Dec. 10, 1997. A referendum by Dallas voters passed Jan. 17, 1998. Hillwood, chaired by Ross Perot, Jr., was the project's developer. American Airlines Center, Hillwood and the City of Dallas reached a fair-share agreement to include minority participation in the construction of the facility and Victory, Hicks, Muse, Tate & Furst, Inc., served as financial advisor for the arena.

SEASON NOTEBOOK

ALL-NBA PERFORMERS: Dirk Nowitzki was named to the All-NBA second team while Steve Nash was an All-NBA third team selection. Both players also made their first-ever NBA All-Star appearances in February.

MAVERICKS MAKE SECOND CONSECUTIVE PLAYOFF APPEARANCE: The Dallas Mavericks made their second consecutive trip to the NBA Playoffs. In 2001, the team broke an 11-year postseason drought by advancing to the playoffs. The Mavericks came into the playoffs as the fourth seed in the Western Conference after finishing the season 57-25. It was the eighth playoff appearance for Dallas in 22 seasons. Dallas defeated Minnesota 3-0 in the first round and then lost 4-1 to Sacramento in the Conference Semifinals.

MAVS SET FRANCHISE VICTORY MARK: The Mavericks set a franchise record with 57 wins. The following are the four best season records of all-time.

1.	2001-02	57-25
2.	1986-87	55-27
3.	2000-01	53-29
	1987-88	53-29

MAVERICKS SECURED WINNING SEASON EARLY: The Mavericks clinched a winning season on 3/5/02 against Phoenix after recording their 42nd win. This was the first time the franchise had registered consecutive winning seasons since the 1986-87 and 1987-88 seasons.

MAVERICKS FINISH 32 OVER .500: Dallas finished the regular season a franchise record 32 games over .500. Dallas went 30 games above .500 for the first time in franchise history by beating the L.A. Clippers (4/4/02). The best record prior to this was the 1986-87 team's mark of 28 games above .500 set twice. They had a 54-26 record with two games left and finished the season at 55-27.

ROAD RECORD BEST IN THE LEAGUE: Dallas had the best road record in the NBA as they tallied a franchise-high 27 road wins. That was two more than the previous mark of 25 set in 2000-2001. The last two seasons are the only winning road records in franchise history. Over the past two seasons, the Mavericks are 52-30 (.642) on the road.

2.	Portland	29-12	1999-2000
3.	Lakers	28-13	1997-1998
4.	Philadelphia	27-14	2000-2001
	Mavericks	27-14	2001-2002

AMONG THE LEAGUE'S BEST: The Mavericks are just one of four teams in the NBA to post consecutive 50-win seasons the last two years. The others are San Antonio, the Lakers and Sacramento.

MAVERICKS POST BEST SCORING MARK IN 5 YEARS: Dallas averaged a league best 105.2 points per game. That was the highest scoring average in the NBA since the 1997-98 Chicago Bulls averaged 105.5 a contest. Over the last week of the regular season, the Mavericks' scoring average was over 105.6 a game. If they could have sustained that mark it would have been the highest in the NBA since 1994-95 when Orlando led the league at 110.9 points a game. Still, the 105.2 points per game was the highest scoring mark by a Maverick team since the 1987-88 team averaged 109.3 a game.

THE CENTURY MARK: There was perhaps no other team in the NBA that depended on scoring 100 or more points as much as the Mavericks did. Here is a look:

- The Mavericks were 47-10 when topping the century mark.
- Dating back to the end of February 2001, Dallas is an amazing 63-12 in the last 75 games in which it cracked the century mark.
- The Mavericks scored 100 or more points a league-leading 57 times.
- The team allowed 100 or more points 46 times and went 26-20 in those games. Dallas and Sacramento (17-16) were the only teams in the NBA to have a winning record in games in which they allowed 100 or more points.
- Dallas scored over 110 points 31 times and were 29-2 in those games.

WE WOULD HAVE A JOB AS A CLOSER IN BASEBALL: Dallas finished the season 36-5 when leading at the start of the second quarter, 41-6 when leading at halftime and league-best 49-2 when leading after three quarters. Dallas is 95-4 when leading at the start of the fourth quarter over the past two seasons.

WINNING MONTHS NEVER GET OLD: The Mavericks posted a winning record in each month of the season for the second consecutive year. Dallas has registered a winning record for 13 consecutive months (which dates back to April 2000). The ongest winning stretch in franchise history is 14 months November 1986-December 1988).

Michael Finley averaged 20.6 points per game in 69 contests.

- The Mavericks were 6-3 in April, which marked their fourth consecutive winning April.
- The Mavericks went 11-5 in March to record their second straight season with a winning March, and the eighth over-all winning March in franchise history. This was pretty impressive as they played eight games against teams that made the playoffs. The 1986-87 team posted the best ever March with a 12-4 record.
- Dallas recorded its third straight winning February after going 7-4.
- Dallas finished 12-4 in January, which set a franchise record for the most wins ever in that month (previous record was 11). The 12 wins also tied the most wins in any month in history (also 12-4 set in March of 1987).
- The Mavericks registered their best December in team history with an 11-3 record. That marked a winning December for the second consecutive year and the sixth in team history.
- Dallas recorded a winning November for the second straight season and the eighth in team history at 9-6.

AVERICKS WERE COMEBACK KIDS: Dallas' high-octane ffense meant the team was never out of a contest. Here is a ook at the comebacks this season:

- The Mavericks tied their 17th biggest comeback at Milwaukee (3/26/02). After being down 17 points in the second, Dallas battled back to tie the game. The Mavericks won in overtime 112-106.
- Dallas was down 14 points late in the third quarter against Boston (2/21/02) and came up big in the fourth to win 98-92.
- At Phoenix on 2/17/02, the Mavericks were down 27-12 before going on a 21-0 run.
- On 1/21/02, the Mavericks came back from a 7-point deficit with 6:03 to play to register a victory over the Nets. The Mavericks went on a 17-1 run in the next 5:16 to put the game into the win column.
- The Mavericks erased a 15-point 3rd quarter deficit at Indiana (1/12/02).
- The Mavericks made the record books on 12/18/01 as they came back from a 22-point deficit in the third quar ter (80-58) to defeat Minnesota (107-103) in Minneapolis. This tied the second largest comeback in team history.
- Dallas battled back from a 21-point deficit in the second quarter (44-23) to defeat Golden State by 10 points (116-106) on 11/27/01. This tied the fourth largest comeback in team history.

OME RUN: The Mavericks closed out their home schedule by ying for the fourth best home record in franchise history at winning home record. After not accomplishing this in eight years, the franchise has posted a winning home record in each of the last three years. This is the first time this has happened in three consecutive years since 1988-90, when the team finished off a stretch of eight consecutive winning home seasons. The 1986-87 team recorded the best-ever home record of 35-6. The Mavericks won seven straight games (from 12/11/01-1/5/02), which tied for the ninth longest home winning streak. Here is a list of the top five home records:

Steve Nash made his first All-Star appearance while posting career-highs of 17.9 points and 7.7 assists per game.

1.	1986-87	35-6
2.	1987-88	33-8
3.	1983-84	31-10
4.	1989-90	30-11
	2001-02	30-11

SELLOUT CENTRAL: With 34 sellouts, Dallas posted the fourth most sellouts in franchise history. The best ever of 38 was recorded in 1986-87. In franchise history, only 10 teams have posted 20 or more sellouts. The Mavericks sold out the American Airlines Center the final 29 regular season games. The Mavericks recorded their largest crowd in team history against Washington (12/8/01) at 20,241. The second largest crowd was 20,181 vs. Sacramento (2/23/02). Here is the list of the most sellouts in a season:

1.	1986-87	38
2.	1987-88	37
3.	1988-89	35
4.	2001-02	34

REACHING MILESTONES QUICKLY: The Mavericks became the fastest team in franchise history to post 50 wins, recording their 50th at Boston (3/29/02). The 50th win in 72 games beats the 1986-87 team who took 74 games to record 50 wins. The Mavericks tied a franchise record by reaching 40 wins in just 57 games (set previously in 1987-88). The 1986-87 team recorded 40 wins after 62 games. Earlier in the season, the Mavericks set a franchise record for the fewest games to reach 30 wins, as they accomplished that feat in 42 games. The previous mark was 47 set in 1987-88.

CONFERENCE/DIVISION WATCH: Dallas had one of its best campaigns against each conference and the Midwest Division.

- Dallas posted its best Western Conference record in 14 years as it went 35-17. That was the best mark since 1987-88 when the team went 41-19. Last season, the Mavericks had a 30-22 record against the West.
- Dallas finished the year 16-8 against Midwest Division opponents which was the best since 1989-90 when they went 17-11.
- Dallas tied its best ever Eastern Conference record, set last season at 23-7.

NELLIE SOARS PAST .500 AND HAS A "GRAND" YEAR: Here is a look at some of this season's highlights for Mavericks head coach Don Nelson.

- He coached his second All-Star team to victory in Philadelphia after the West won 135-120.
- Nellie has a winning record with all four NBA teams he has coached.
- Nellie hit the .500 mark with the Mavericks after the team defeated Phoenix on 3/5/02. He now has a 185-177 record with Dallas.
- Assuming the head coaching duties during the 1997-98 season, Nellie's record fell as low as 44-104 (29.7%) on 1/6/00. Since that date, Nellie has led the Mavericks to a 141-73 record (65.8%).
- Nelson became just the third coach in NBA history to record his 1,000th win as the Mavericks defeated the Atlanta Hawks 113-97 on Saturday, December 29, 2001. Only Toronto's Lenny Wilkens and Miami's Pat Riley have won more games as a head coach.

RECORD SETTING FIRST HALF: Dallas set a franchise record for the most wins in the first 41 games after defeating New Jersey on 1/21. The Mavericks were 29-12 after 41 games, which broke the previous best first half of 28-13 set in 1987-88. The 29-12 record tied for the best half of a season in franchise history as well. The 1986-87 team was also 29-12 but in the second half of the year.

MAVERICKS RECORD BEST EVER ALL-STAR MARK: Dallas' 35 wins was a franchise record for victories before the All-Star

SHOOTING LIGHTS OUT: Dallas could be considered the best all-around shooting team in the league. The Mavericks ranked fourth in field goal percentage and 3-point percentage and first in free throw percentage. No other team can say that. Only the Minnesota Timberwolves were close as they rank in the top five in the categories.

NOT SO CLOSE: The Mavericks usually won their games handily. Dallas had 31 wins by 10 or more points and 42 by 7 or more. Only 16 times was a game decided by five points or less. Dallas averaged 109.3 points in wins while holding their opponents to 98.1 points. There were only 12 games decided by 3 points or less.

OUTSTANDING IN OT: Dallas played seven overtime games and went 5-2. The most overtime games in a season was eight (they went 4-4) in 1995-96 and in 1997-98. Only those two seasons in history have more than this season's seven.

INJURY PLAGUED: The Mavericks players missed a combined 282 games to illness or injury. Shawn Bradley had not missed a game in two seasons, Dirk Nowitzki had never missed a game in his career due to an injury and Michael Finley had the longest active streak of consecutive games played until he missed a game. Steve Nash was the only player to appear in all 82 games this season.

THE STARTING FIVE: Don Nelson used 29 different lineups. The most successful one (5-0) was Eduardo Najera and Dirk Nowitzki at forward, Raef LaFrentz at center and Steve Nash and Michael Finley as the guards. The most popular lineup of forwards Adrian Griffin and Juwan Howard, center Dirk Nowitzki and guards Steve Nash and Michael Finley went 4-4.

MISCELLANEOUS MAVERICKS:

- The longest winning streak of the season ended at 10 games at New York on 1/3/02. The 10 straight were the second longest in team history and trailed only the franchise record of 11 set in 1987-88.
- They won a franchise-record eight straight road games from 1/15-2/12/02, beating the old mark of seven set in 2000-01 (12/15/00-1/10/01).
- This season the Mavericks were 28-13 against teams with a record of .500 or better. Meanwhile they played well against teams below the .500 mark, as they were 28-12. The Mavericks were 27-16 against the other 15 teams in the playoffs.
- The Mavericks lost 10 games this season by 10 or more points. In the game following these double-digit losses the team was 7-3.
- Dallas' 21-0 run at Phoenix (2/17/02) was the largest run in franchise history by one point. In the 133-112 victory at the Clippers on 1/26, the team reeled-off a 20-

Nick Van Exel (left) and Raef LaFrentz joined the team in February after a trade with Denver.

- The Mavericks won six back-to-backs and split 13. They were 13-6 in the first and second games.
- Avery Johnson became the fifth NBA player to play for all three Texas teams. The other four are Mark Bryant, Vernon Maxwell, David Wood and Chucky Brown.
- In 12 games when at least three players scored 20 or more points, Dallas was 9-3.

MORE HONORS: Steve Nash was named Western Conference Player of the Week from 12/10-12/16/01, Dirk Nowitzki was named Western Conference Player of the Week from 1/21-1/27/02 and Michael Finley was named Western Conference Player of the Week from 4/8-4/14/02.

DYNAMITE DIRK: Dirk Nowitzki was simply one of the best players in the NBA. The big German led the team in scoring at 23.4 points a game and led the team in rebounds with 9.9, both of which ranked among the league's top 10. He ranked third in the NBA behind Tim Duncan and Shaquille O'Neal in 20-point/10-rebound games with 13. He posted 38 double-doubles, scored 30 points or more 21 times, and has led the team in scoring 40 times and in rebounding 44 times. He recorded a season-high 40 points at Atlanta on 1/15/02 and a career-high total in rebounds with 23 vs. Boston (2/21/02).

NOWITZKI'S REBOUNDS SET MARK: When Dirk Nowitzki grabbed all 21 of his rebounds on the defensive end vs. Sacramento on 2/23/02 he set a league record for most without an offensive rebound. The league did not start differentiating between offensive and defensive rebounds until the 1973-74 season but here are the top efforts since then.

21	Dirk Nowitzki	Dallas	2002
19	Patrick Ewing	New York	1996
19	David Robinson	San Antonio	1994
19	Bob Lanier	Detroit	1977

THE IRON MAN: The Mavericks Iron Man Michael Finley did not play for the first time as a Maverick and first time in six seasons against Atlanta (12/29/01). That ended the then-longest active streak in the NBA at 490 consecutive games played. Finley played his career-low in minutes vs. Chicago on 12/27/01 after suffering a strained left hamstring. He missed 13 games with that injury.

LET'S GET NASH-TY: Steve Nash made his first All-Star appearance due to his career season. He finished third on the team in scoring with a career-high average of 17.9 points per game and leads the team in assists at a career-high 7.7 per contest. He posted 20 double-doubles. He was the only player to appear in all 82 games for Dallas after never playing in more than 70 games in a season during his career.

THE BIG THREE: Michael Finley, Steve Nash and Dirk Nowitzki combined to average 61.9 points a game, which is 58.8% of the total points. In Dallas' games this season, only four other players led the team in scoring (Juwan Howard, Eduardo Najera, Tim Hardaway and Nick Van Exel). These three also combined for 57.9% of the assists and 39.2% of the rebounds.

LaFRENTZ JOINS ELITE FEW: Mavericks center Raef LaFrentz became just the third player in league history to register 100 3's and 100 blocks in the same season. Dirk Nowitzki accomplished the feat in 2000-01 and the Lakers' Robert Horry did so with Houston in 1995-96.

FROM THE FIELD: The Mavericks finished the season shooting 46.2%, which was fourth in the league. That was also the highest percentage by a Dallas team since the 1990-91 team shot 47.1%. Dallas shot better than 50% 22 times and was 20-2 in those games.

LONG RANGERS: The Dallas Mavericks finished the season with the second longest streak of games with at least one 3-pointer. The Toronto Raptors are first with 284 followed by Dallas with 283. Miami was the leader with an NBA record of 594 straight games, but that ended on 11/10/01.

FROM THE STRIPE: The Mavericks led the league with a franchise record percentage of 80.6% from the foul line. The Mavericks shot above 80% 48 times and were 31-17 in those games. Dallas set a franchise record for free throw percentage at New Jersey (2/6/02) going 27-27 from the line.

ASSIST ANGLE: The Mavericks averaged 22.1 assists a game. When they had more assists than their opponents, the Mavericks were 19-5.

HOLDING ON: Dallas was best in the league at holding on to the basketball, committing an all-time NBA low 12.1 turnovers per game.

SEASON RECAP

Won 53, lost 29 (second, Midwest)...Dirk Nowitzki became the first Dallas Maverick in franchise history to earn All-NBA honors as he was named to the league's third team...Mavericks head coach/general manager was named Sports Illustrated's "Executive of the Year". The magazine also selected Michael Finley and Dirk Nowitzki as third team All-NBA players…Dirk Nowitzki became only the second player in league history to have more than 100 3-pointers (151) made and 100 blocks (101) in a season. Robert Horry did it in 1995-1996 with Houston (142 3's and 109 blocks)…The Mavericks ended the longest playoff drought in the NBA by making their first postseason appearance in 11 years. The Mavericks went into the playoffs as the fifth seed in the Western Conference after finishing the season 53-29…The Mavericks made their seventh postseason appearance in 21 seasons. After becoming just the sixth team in playoff history to erase a 0-2 deficit and win a five-game series over the Jazz, Dallas fell in the conference semifinals 4-1 to San Antonio…The Mavericks posted the second best improvement in the win column in the NBA. The Mavericks had a +13 improvement, as they went from 40 to 53 wins, behind the Clippers +16…Dallas had 28 wins by 10 or more points. That tied for third in the league behind San Antonio's 40 and Portland's 29. The Mavericks were tied with Sacramento…The Mavericks trio of Dirk Nowitzki, Michael Finley and Juwan Howard was the third-highest scoring trio in the NBA. Those three combined to average 61.1 points per game (Howard's average was his Dallas average). They trailed just the Lakers Shaquille O'Neal, Kobe Bryant and Rick Fox trio of 68.7 ppg and Milwaukee's Ray Allen, Sam Cassell and Glenn Robinson average of 62.2 points per game…The Mavericks finished the regular season as the only team in the league to finish in the top five in all of the following categories: points per game (100.5, 4th), field goal percentage (45.9%, 5th), free throw percentage (79.4%, 2nd) and 3-point field goal percentage (38.1%, 4th)…The Mavericks posted the third 50-win season in team history with 53 wins. That was the first 50-win season in 13 years…The Dallas Mavericks posted 20 sellouts for the first time since 1994-95, when there were 27. It was the ninth time in history Dallas had at least 20…The team recorded 25 road wins and the first-ever winning road record…When Dallas scored more than 100 points they were 35-11…Playing their final season at Reunion Arena, the Mavericks won 16 of their last 20 games. With 28 wins at home, Dallas compiled more home wins than 16 of the Mavericks previous 20 seasons. The 1986-87 season had the best home record at 35-6.

SEASON RECAP

Won 40, lost 42 (fourth, Midwest)...Mark Cuban purchased the Mavericks on Jan. 4, 2000. From that point on the team went 31-19…The Mavericks finished 40-42 which was their best record since 1989-90 when they went 47-35…Dallas was ninth in the Western Conference and fourth in the Midwest Division…Dallas recorded the seventh 40-win season in team history…Dallas had a winning percentage of .487 improving on 1998-99's percentage of .381 (19-31)…the Mavericks posted back-to-back home winning records for the first time since 1988-89 and 1989-90…Dallas went 22-19 at home and 15-10 in 1998-99…Dallas' 22 home wins were the most since 1989-90 when they went 30-11 which was the ninth most in team history…Dallas had a 18-23 road record which was the best in 12 years since the team was 20-21 in 1987-88…Dallas recorded three winning months, including two consecutive (January 8-5, February 8-7 and April 9-1)…The Mavericks defeated every Western Conference opponent at least once for the first time since 1987-88…Dallas had a 28-24 record against the West, which was the best record in 10 years…The Mavericks finished 9-1 in April which was the best month ever in franchise history (winning percentage wise). After posting winning months in January (8-5) and February (8-7), the Mavericks had winning records in three of the last four months. This was the first time Dallas had a winning record in three out of four months since 1989-90 when they had a winning record in five of six months…Dallas went 16-5 in the last 21 games, which tied for the best finish in franchise history (in 1986-87 the team was also 16-5). The Mavericks went 25-16 in the second half of the season, which was the best second half record since 1989-90 when the team was 26-15. The 25 wins was the fifth-best second half total in franchise history. During that span the Mavericks' 16 wins were the most in the NBA, tied with the Lakers, and was the second best record in the league (since March 10). The Mavericks also started the new year off on the right foot by winning the majority of their games. Starting on January 7, the Mavericks won 31 of their last 50 games, which was tied for 10th in the league. During this time, Dallas' record against the other 11 teams on that list was 8-8 and the Mavericks were the only non-playoff team listed…Michael Finley was one of only four players in the league who averaged more than 20 points, 5 rebounds and 5 assists (Kevin Garnett, Grant Hill and Gary Payton were the other three)…Michael Finley, who led the NBA in minutes played at 42.2 a game, broke his Dallas record of most minutes played in a season. Finley logged 3,464 minutes, breaking his old record of 3,394 set in 1997-98.

SEASON RECAP

Won 24, lost 58 (fourth, Midwest). The Mavericks used an NBA-record 27 different players (not including Kurt Thomas, who never saw action for Dallas due to injury)…a club-record 18 different players started games for Dallas…Dec. 26 the Mavericks acquired Sam Cassell, A.C. Green, Michael Finley and a second round draft pick in '98 from Phoenix in exchange for Jason Kidd, Loren Meyer and Tony Dumas…Feb. 14 the Mavericks acquired forward Kurt Thomas, Martin Muursepp and Sasha Danilovic from Miami in exchange for Jamal Mashburn…three days later, Feb. 17, the Mavericks acquired Robert Pack, Khalid Reeves, Shawn Bradley and Ed O'Bannon in exchange for Chris Gatling, Jim Jackson, Eric Montross, Sam Cassell and George McCloud…of the group that finished the season in Dallas, only two players made it from the start of training camp through the end of the season: Samaki Walker and Derek Harper…Bradley led the NBA in shot-blocking in '96-97 with 3.40 per game…that's the first time a Maverick has ever led the NBA in a major statistical category…the Mavericks allowed a club-record-low 97 ppg and held the opposition to a club-record-low .458 shooting…due to the trade with Phoenix, both Finley and Green played 83 games in '96-97 (joining Detroit's Aaron McKie as the only NBA players to play 83 games)…the Mavericks lost 217 player-games to injury/illness…the Mavericks were 12-2 when shooting .500-plus and 14-6 when scoring 100-plus points…Dallas was 7-9 in games decided by three points or less and 1-3 in overtime…Dallas used 19 different starting lineups, with the lineup of Finley/Green/Bradley/Strickland/Reeves being the most used at 11.

SEASON RECAP

Won 13, lost 69 (sixth, Midwest)…the Mavericks finished their 14th NBA season 13-69…Dallas was 6-35 in Reunion Arena and 7-34 on the road – the first time for Dallas to have a better road record than home mark…Dallas won its final two games, four of its last seven and five of its last 11…after starting the season 3-40, the Mavericks were 5-8 in February…however, Dallas followed that with an 0-13 March (the first month in franchise history without a win) before rebounding to go 5-8 in April…the Mavericks were one of just two clubs with two players in the top 18 in scoring (the Clippers were the other) as Jim Jackson and Jamal Mashburn each averaged 19.2 ppg to tie for 18th in the NBA…Mashburn's 19.2 ppg was the highest scoring average last season by a rookie and is the highest scoring average ever by a No. 4 overall pick…Dallas set a club record last season with 767 steals, breaking the club record of 688 steals by the 1986-87 Midwest Division Championship club…Mashburn and Popeye Jones each participated in the Schick Rookie Game on All-Star Saturday…Dallas was the only club with two participants in the Rookie Game…Jones' 7.5 rebounds per game last season is the highest rookie rebound average ever by a Maverick…Dallas – which allowed 114.5 ppg in 1992-93 – allowed 103.8 ppg in '93-94, an improvement of 10.7 ppg…that's the second-biggest improvement in the NBA (Atlanta improved on defense by 12.2 ppg)…the Mavericks used 15 different starting lineups in '93-94, down from 28 starting lineups in '92-93…the lineup of Mashburn/Jones/Morningstar/Harper/Jackson started the opener and was the most frequently used lineup at 14…Mashburn/Jones/Rooks/Lever/Jackson started the finale.

SEASON RECAP

Won 38, lost 44 (fourth, Midwest)…was Dallas' first losing season and first season not to make the playoffs since going 38-44 in 1982-83…the Mavericks won their final three games and four of their last five, but were eliminated from the playoffs on the last night of the season when Portland won at home 126-120 in overtime vs. Sacramento…that Portland-Sacramento game was the final installment of the NBA's 1,025-game regular season schedule…Dallas dressed a full complement of 12 players in just 23 of 82 games and only three times in the final 36 games (the period after the Feb. 15 Aguirre/Dantley trade)…the club lost 141 player-games to injury/illness…that's 104 more than 1987-88's total of 37 missed player-games…the regular line-up of Dantley, Perkins, Donaldson, Blackman and Harper started just two games…attendance averaged 16,953, the fourth-straight season of 99 percent-plus capacity…Dallas finished fourth in NBA defense, its best defensive ranking ever, allowing a club record-low 104.7 ppg…Dallas also set season club records for lowest defensive shooting percentage (.469, sixth best in the NBA), most games holding the opponent under 100 points (29) and blocked shots (476)…the Mavericks started the season 9-3 (the best start in club history) and owned the best record in the Western Conference when they stood 17-9 on Dec. 29 (the latest point in any season for the Mavericks ever to have the best record in the conference)…however, by Jan. 11 Dallas had tumbled to eighth in the conference…overall Dallas was: 17-32 during Roy Tarpley's suspension, 26-37 in all games without Tarpley, 13-23 after the Aguirre/Dantley trade, 7-17 after Donaldson's knee injury (counting the Houston game he was injured in) and 9-21 in all games without Donaldson…the line-up of Aguirre, Perkins, Donaldson, Harper and Blackman started 41 games (the most of any unit), including the opener…Dantley, Tarpley, Perkins, Harper and Blackman started the finale.

SEASON RECAP

Won 55, lost 27 (first, Midwest)…a disappointing four-game first-round elimination to Seattle followed a year of many milestones: most wins, first division title (won by 11 games, the biggest margin in the Midwest since 1980-81), winningest March ever (12-4), first 4-1 road trip, first-ever wins in Philadelphia and Milwaukee…club never lost more than two in a row in regular season, but dropped three-straight in playoffs to Seattle after setting 11 records in a 151-129 game one win…for the first time two Mavericks (Aguirre, Blackman) played in All-Star Game…the 11-win improvement over '85-86 was the NBA's third-biggest jump and the Mavericks' biggest step-up since '81-82…for the fifth straight year Dallas committed the fewest turnovers in the NBA (14.7)…55-27 was fourth-best record in NBA…club best 35-6 at home while selling out all but three games and 954 tickets…went 20-21 on the road…attendance of 16,984 was a club record…defense improved from 21st in NBA to 14th (110.4 ppg), and club records were set for FG% defense, steals, blocks and rebounds…for the third straight year Dallas led the NBA in three-pointers made and attempted with NBA record totals of 231-of-653…James Donaldson shattered the club rebound record averaging 11.9 per game, best in the West and among NBA centers…only team to win the season series with the Lakers (3-2)…the lineup of Aguirre, Perkins, Donaldson, Harper and Blackman started 70 of 82 games, including the opener and the regular season finale.

SEASON RECAP

Won 44, lost 38 (third, Midwest)…a repeat of the 1984-85 record and fourth place playoff seed…club failed in its bid to become just the fourth team in NBA history to improve five straight years…eliminated Utah in the first round of the playoffs 3-1, then lost to the Lakers 4-2 in the conference semi-finals…averaged 16,904 fans per game, second in the league to Detroit (16,957)…Dallas sold out 31 of 41 dates and filled Reunion Arena to 99.4 percent of its capacity – an NBA record for a building of Reunion's size…home record was 26-15, with seven losses coming against teams which finished the year with losing records …on Nov. 25 Dallas traded Kurt Nimphius to the Clippers for 7-2 center James Donaldson…Donaldson's strength gave the Mavericks a new dimension and he finished ninth in NBA boards (9.6) – the first Mavericks player ever among rebound leaders…Dallas was 12-22 vs. teams which posted winning records and 3-12 vs. the division winners …regular season highlight was March 10th's 116-115 home win over Boston…that night, Dallas, playing without Mark Aguirre (ill), overcame 50 points from Larry Bird, and a 13-point deficit in the last 5:37 for first-ever win vs. Celtics…Dallas averaged 115.3 ppg, second to the Lakers, but allowed 114.2 ppg – 21st in defense… the Mavericks averaged 15.7 turnovers, the fewest in the NBA for the fourth straight year…for the second straight year Dallas led the NBA in 3-pointers made and attempted with 141-of-446…Dallas was the only team to place two scorers in the top 15: Aguirre 12th (22.6) and Blackman 15th (21.5)…Mark Aguirre was suspended for two games on Dec. 21 after refusing to play the second half of the Dec. 19 win at Atlanta…Blackman made his second straight All-Star Game appearance, this time before the Reunion faithful…Brad Davis won his fifth straight Favorite Maverick Award…opening game starters: Perkins, Aguirre, Bryant, Davis, Blackman…final game starters: Aguirre, Wennington, Donaldson, Ellis, Harper…most frequently used starting lineup: Aguirre, Perkins, Donaldson, Harper (who replaced Davis on Jan. 22), Blackman.

SEASON RECAP

Won 44, lost 38 (third, Midwest)…Mavericks improve their record for the fourth straight year – only the 10th time that's ever happened in the NBA…20-21 road mark was a franchise record and was fifth-best in NBA…mysteriously, club fell from 31-10 at home in '83-84 to 24-17…11 of 17 home defeats came by 10 points or more and nine of the losses were to losing teams…the Mavericks averaged 16,694 fans per game, 98 percent of Reunion's capacity and second in the NBA to Detroit…it was a "streakless" year – the longest winning streak was four straight and the longest losing streak was three in a row…for the third straight year, the Mavericks made the fewest turnovers in the NBA, this time with an NBA-record low of 14.4 per game…Mavericks became first NBA team to have four players make at least 20 three-pointers (Davis 47, Ellis 42, Aguirre 27, Harper 21)…the Mavericks' 152 three-pointers led the NBA and were the third-most since the NBA adopted the three-pointer in '79-80…whenever the Mavericks scored 125-plus at home and won, everybody got a coupon from Pizza Hut for free pizza…it happened four times in the regular season and on each occasion Dale Ellis hit the "pizza bucket"…Sam Perkins made the all-rookie team…Brad Davis won his fourth straight Favorite Maverick Award…Dallas was 30-1 when out-shooting the opponent…5-5 vs. Atlantic and 19-11 vs. Pacific were club's best records ever against those divisions…Dallas was the NBA's healthiest team, losing only six player-games to injury…carried 11 players after waiving Howard Carter in December…opening game starters: Aguirre, Vincent, Perkins, Davis, Blackman…final game starters: Vincent, Perkins, Bryant, Davis, Blackman…most frequently used starting lineup: Aguirre, Vincent, Nimphius, Davis, Blackman.

The Mavericks used strong second and fourth quarters to win the first game of their best-of-five series against Minnesota 101-94. Dallas trailed 31-22 at the end of the first quarter but outscored the Timberwolves 28-16 in the second quarter to take a three-point halftime lead. Dallas then outscored Minnesota 28-21 in the fourth to register the victory. Dirk Nowitzki led the Mavericks with 30 points and 15 rebounds. Steve Nash added 21 points while Nick Van Exel came off the bench to add 18 points. Michael Finley with 16 and Raef LaFrentz with 10 were also in double figures. The Mavericks outshot the Timberwolves 44%-40% but were outrebounded 58-39. Minnesota also outscored Dallas 26-2 in second chance points as they had 20 offensive rebounds. Kevin Garnett led Minnesota with 19 points and 21 rebounds while Chauncey Billups had a team-high 25 points to go along with nine assists and six rebounds. The game also featured 15 lead changes and was tied seven times.

Dirk Nowitzki averaged 33.3 points and 15.7 rebounds per game in the three-game first round sweep over Minnesota.

GAME TWO (APRIL 24, 2002) @ AMERICAN AIRLINES CENTER (20,084) — DALLAS 122, MINNESOTA 110. Dallas' Big Three forced an up-tempo game to defeat the Minnesota Timberwolves 122-110 to take a 2-0 lead in the series. Dirk Nowitzki had 31 points and 15 rebounds for the Mavericks, Michael Finley finished with 28 points and eight rebounds, while Steve Nash added 17 points and 10 assists. The game remained close through the first half as there were 17 ties and 12 lead changes. But Dallas went on a decisive 19-7 run in the third quarter to go up by 13. The Timberwolves never got closer than eight points the rest of the way. Kevin Garnett led Minnesota with 31 points and 18 rebounds, while Wally Szczerbiak and Chauncey Billups each scored 25. The Timberwolves actually outshot the Mavericks 50.6%-48.9%, but Dallas had the edge from long range making eight more treys than Minnesota. Dallas also controlled the break, outscoring Minnesota 27-12 in fast break points. Dallas set a playoff-low with six turnovers in that game.

GAME THREE (APRIL 28, 2002) @ TARGET CENTER (18,795) — DALLAS 115, MINNESOTA 102. For the first time in franchise history, the Dallas Mavericks swept a playoff opponent. Dallas moved onto the second round of the NBA Playoffs after defeating the Minnesota Timberwolves in three games, winning 115-102 Game 3 in Minneapolis. Dirk Nowitzki scored 28 of his 39 points in the first quarter and Michael Finley had 13 of his 30 points in the third quarter to lead the Mavericks. Steve Nash added 25 points and 11 assists. Dallas got out to an early 35-18 lead and sustained that advantage through three quarters. Their largest lead was 20 points (97-77) just before the end of the third. In the fourth, Minnesota went on a 22-7 run that trimmed Dallas' lead down to three (104-101). Dallas quickly went back up five with a tip-in by Eduardo Najera and Minnesota never got any closer. Kevin Garnett had 22 points and 17 rebounds, and Wally Szczerbiak and Anthony Peeler each scored 20 points for the Timberwolves. Dallas outshot Minnesota 44.9%-43.2% and made 54.2% of their 3-point attempts.

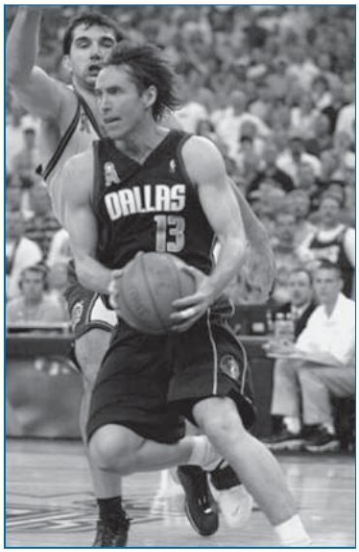
GAME ONE (MAY 4, 2002) @ ARCO ARENA (17,317) — SACRAMENTO 108, DALLAS 91. Peja Stojakovic scored 26 points and Vlade Divac had 18 points and 16 rebounds as the Kings beat the Mavericks 108-91 in Game 1. Sacramento played tough defense and capitalized on its low-post options as they scored nearly two-thirds of their points in the paint while outrebounding Dallas 53-43. Dirk Nowitzki led Dallas with 23 points and 14 rebounds which was his fourth consecutive double-double of the playoffs. Michael Finley had 21 points and Nick Van Exel 15. Dallas was further limited when forward Eduardo Najera broke his thumb during warmups. Mike Bibby had 11 points and eight assists, while Bobby Jackson added 12 points in a reserve role. The Kings shot 46.2% while holding the Mavericks to just 38.9% from the field.

GAME TWO (MAY 6, 2002) @ ARCO ARENA (17,317) — DALLAS 110, SACRAMENTO 102. Steve Nash scored a career playoff-high 30 points and Dirk Nowitzki added 22 points and 15 rebounds as the Mavericks evened the series with a 110-102 win. The Kings went scoreless for over three minutes down the stretch, which allowed Dallas to pull away. Raef LaFrentz broke a 93-93 tie with a dunk and a layup with 3:07 left to play. He finished with 14 points and 10 rebounds. The Mavericks scored eight unanswered points in that stretch highlighted by Dirk Nowitzki's fast break dunk. The Kings only got within five the rest of the way. Chris Webber had 22 points and 12 rebounds for the Kings. The Mavericks outshot the Kings 48.3%-40.9% and had a 48-47 rebounding edge.



Steve Nash scored a career playoff-high 30 points in Dallas' Game 2 victory over the Kings.

Michael Finley scored 24.7 points per game during the 2002 Playoffs.

GAME THREE (MAY 9, 2002) @ AMERICAN AIRLINES CENTER (20,265) — SACRAMENTO 125, DALLAS 119. Mike Bibby scored 29 points and Doug Christie returned from a sprained right ankle to score 14 of his 20 points in the fourth quarter as the Kings beat the Mavericks 125-119. Chris Webber led the Kings with 31 points and 15 rebounds. The Kings relied on Bibby's hot shooting in the first quarter to grab a 15-point lead. Later in the game they leaned on Christie who sparked a 14-4 run midway through the fourth quarter that gave Sacramento a 105-97 lead. Christie sprained his ankle in the second quarter and managed to come back with seconds left in the third. Michael Finley led the Mavericks with a career playoff-high 37 points. Dirk Nowitzki, who had recorded a double-double in each of the playoff games prior, only had 19 points and five rebounds in Game 3. Sacramento finished the game shooting 52.9% compared to Dallas' 45.7%. The Kings also held the rebounding advantage 47-38.

GAME FOUR (MAY 11, 2002) @ AMERICAN AIRLINES CENTER (20,274) — SACRAMENTO 115, DALLAS 113 (OT). The Kings erased a 14-point second half Dallas lead, which included a late 17-2 run, to tie the game before winning 115-113 in overtime. Mike Bibby tied the game with a layup with 31 seconds remaining. Michael Finley had a chance to give Dallas the lead but his shot with eight seconds to go missed its mark. Bibby then missed a 3-pointer at the end of regulation. The Mavericks took a two-point lead with 3:30 to play on a Finley jumper but Scot Pollard tied the game with two free throws just 18 seconds later. Bibby then made the game-winner with 12.4 seconds to play. Dirk Nowitzki missed a driving layup with 2.7 seconds to play. Nowitzki led the Mavericks with 31 points and 12 rebounds. Finley added 28 points while Steve Nash had 24. Chris Webber led the Kings with 30 points while Bobby Jackson added 26 and Bibby 24. The Kings shot 47.6% from the field while the Mavericks shot just 43%. Sacramento won the battle of the boards 54-42.

GAME FIVE (MAY 13, 2002) @ ARCO ARENA (17,317) — SACRAMENTO 114, DALLAS 101. Hedo Turkoglu jump-started the decisive run and recorded his first career playoff double-double with 20 points and 13 rebounds as the Kings eliminated the Mavericks with a 114-101 victory. Dirk Nowitzki scored eight straight points to get Dallas within 70-69, but then Turkoglu made a putback layup with 4:55 left in the third quarter and added a 3-pointer and a jumper during a 16-4 run to close the period. Mike Bibby and Chris Webber added 23 points apiece to lead the Kings. Nowitzki registered 32 points and 12 rebounds and Michael Finley scored 26 points for the Mavericks. Sacramento held a big edge at the free-throw line, making 26-of-32 attempts while Dallas was just 15-of-20. The Kings took the lead for good with 8:49 remaining in the first quarter, when Christie made a fadeaway jumper to make it 10-8. Sacramento held a 32-26 lead after one quarter and took a 59-53 edge into halftime. The Kings led 68-61 when Webber aggravated a left ankle injury four minutes into the third quarter. After Divac made a reverse layup, Nowitzki -- taking advantage of Webber's absence -- made an eight-foot jump shot, a nine-foot fadeaway, a dunk and a 20-foot jumper to get the Mavs within 70-69 with 5:37 remaining. But Turkoglu scored off his offensive rebound to begin the Kings' counterattack, and by the time Webber returned with 3:16 left in the period, Sacramento's lead was back to eight points.

GAME ONE (APRIL 21, 2001) @ DELTA CENTER (19,100) — UTAH 88, DALLAS 86. The Mavericks had their chances in the first playoff game in 11 years for the franchise but they fell by two points to the Jazz. Dallas led 86-82 after a driving layup by Steve Nash with 1:12 remaining before Utah's Danny Manning hit a 3-pointer with 58 seconds remaining to cut the lead to one. After a Dallas miss, John Stockton made two free throws to give the Jazz a one-point lead. Donyell Marshall made one of two free throws with 3.3 seconds to go for a two-point lead. Michael Finley's 3-point attempt at the buzzer was short on a last attempt for the Mavericks. A close game throughout, there were 16 lead changes and 6 ties. The biggest lead the Jazz had was 13 points while the largest for the Mavericks was 7. Finley led Dallas with 26 points while Dirk Nowitzki added 20 points and a team-high 12 rebounds. The Mavericks outshot the Jazz 43.1%-41.3% but were outrebounded 48-37.

GAME TWO (APRIL 24, 2001) @ DELTA CENTER (19,911) — UTAH 109, DALLAS 98. Karl Malone scored 34 points and Bryon Russell had 24 as the Utah Jazz took a 2-0 lead over the Dallas Mavericks with a 109-96 victory. John Stockton also added 17 points in 42 minutes. The Mavericks trailed by 20 points late in the third quarter but outscored the Jazz 15-6 over the first six minutes of the final period. Dallas pulled within 90-87 when Dirk Nowitzki hit a 3-pointer and was fouled by Russell, but the Jazz rattled off the next six points to seal the win. Michael Finley led the Mavericks with 32 points, Steve Nash added 20 and Juwan Howard had 17. Dirk Nowitzki struggled offensively shooting just 3-for-11 and scoring 15 points. The Jazz had a 31-30 rebounding edge, but outshot the Mavericks 47.8%-40.6%.

GAME THREE (APRIL 28, 2001) @ REUNION ARENA (18,187) — DALLAS 94, UTAH 91. Steve Nash hit a go-ahead turnaround jumper with 22.7 seconds to play and Michael Finley made two free throws as the Dallas Mavericks pulled out a 94-91 win over the Utah Jazz. Dirk Nowitzki finished with 33 points and 10 rebounds, Juwan Howard added 18 points and a team-high 11 rebounds, while Nash had 16 points and a team-high seven assists. The Mavericks led early in the fourth quarter by 11, but the Jazz went ahead 91-90 with 34 seconds left on a layup by John Stockton, which was Utah's first lead since 18-16. Nash countered with his 10-footer to give Dallas a 92-91 edge. The next possession Finley grabbed a bad pass and was fouled with eight seconds to go. Utah had one more chance, but John Stockton threw up a wild 3-pointer with five seconds to play. Nash grabbed the rebound and dribbled out the clock. Stockton finished with his first ever playoff triple-double with 12 points, 11 rebounds and 10 assists. Karl Malone led the Jazz with 29 points and 13 rebounds. The Jazz outshot the Mavericks 45.9%-38.6% and outrebounded them 49-45.

GAME FOUR (MAY 1, 2001) @ REUNION ARENA (18,300) — DALLAS 107, UTAH 77. Dirk Nowitzki scored 16 of his 33 points in the third quarter and Steve Nash had 27 points as the Dallas Mavericks evened the series 2-2 with a 107-77 victory over the Utah Jazz. The 30-point win was the largest ever in Mavericks playoff history. Michael Finley added 20 points and a team-high 12 rebounds. In the second quarter, Nash and Nowitzki combined to score 22 of Dallas' 28 points as Dallas turned a 10-point deficit into a 45-42 halftime lead. Karl Malone led the Jazz with 25 points and David Benoit added 12 points. Malone score nine of the Jazz's first 16 and their first eight in the third quarter. Dallas finished 13-of-25 from 3-point range, while Dirk Nowitzki set a playoff record hitting 5-of-10. The Mavericks outshot the Jazz 46.2%-38.5% and outrebounded them 5-42.

GAME FIVE (MAY 3, 2001) @ DELTA CENTER (19,911) — DALLAS 84, UTAH 83. Calvin Booth scored his only basket of the game with 9 seconds remaining to give the Mavericks an 84-83 victory over Utah to win the first round series 3-2. Following a timeout, Utah had two shots to win the game but John Stockton's and Karl Malone's shots missed and the Mavericks advanced. The Mavericks trailed by as many as 17 in the second half and by as many as 15 in the fourth quarter, but outscored the Jazz 27-12 in the final 12 minutes to earn the victory. The Mavericks led by a total of 28 seconds the entire game. Michael Finley led the Mavericks with 33 points. The win gave the Mavericks their first playoff series win since 1988 and they became the sixth team in NBA history to erase a 0-2 deficit and go on to win a 5-game series.

GAME ONE (MAY 5, 2001) @ ALAMODOME (32,798) — SAN ANTONIO 94, DALLAS 78. Tim Duncan scored 31 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead the Spurs to a 94-78 victory in Game 1 of the Western Conference Semifinals. The Spurs led 16-11 at the end of the first quarter and 47-34 at the half. San Antonio then outscored the Mavericks 29-19 in the third to seal the victory. Michael Finley led the team with 17 points while Howard Eisley was the only other Maverick in double figures with 16 points off the bench. Shawn Bradley had 8 points and a team-high 12 rebounds and 6 blocks. The Mavericks shot just 37% from the field and made just 3-18 3-pointers. The Spurs shot 43.8% from the field and made 24-37 free throws. San Antonio also won the rebounding battle 50-42.

GAME TWO (MAY 7, 2001) @ ALAMODOME (27,690) — SAN ANTONIO 100, DALLAS 86. Tim Duncan had 25 points and 22 rebounds to lead the San Antonio Spurs past the Dallas Mavericks 100-86 in Game 2. Four other Spurs were in double figures including David Robinson who finished with 18 points. San Antonio outshot Dallas 51.9%-34.2% and outrebounded them 45-38. Ahead by four points at the half, San Antonio increased their lead to 15 midway through the third quarter and never looked back. They outscored Dallas 29-20 in that period. Michael Finley led the Mavericks with 24 points and seven assists, while Dirk Nowitzki added 19 points (11 from the free throw line). Howard Eisley had 12 points off the Mavericks bench, while Steve Nash and Shawn Bradley chipped in 10 each. The Spurs once again used their inside game to their advantage, outscoring the Mavericks 48-20 in the paint. The Mavericks kept the game close, shooting 25-29 free throws compared to the Spurs' 8-12 mark from the line.

GAME THREE (MAY 9, 2001) @ REUNION ARENA (18,237) — SAN ANTONIO 104, DALLAS 90. The Spurs took control of the Western Conference Semifinal series with a 14-point victory over the Mavericks. The Mavericks were down by just 5 points at halftime (48-43) but the Spurs outscored them 30-11 in the third to take control of the game. Poor shooting once again plagued the Mavericks as they shot just 34.7% from the field. Meanwhile the Spurs shot 48% from the floor. David Robinson had 19 points and 14 rebounds while Tim Duncan added 18 points and 14 rebounds to lead San Antonio. Dirk Nowitzki, who suffered from stomach flu earlier in the day, led the Mavericks with 15 points. For the third consecutive game the Spurs won the rebounding battle 54-48. Greg Buckner was a bright spot off the Mavericks bench as he had 14 points and 12 rebounds.

GAME FOUR (MAY 12, 2001) @ REUNION ARENA (18,187) — DALLAS 112, SAN ANTONIO 108. Dirk Nowitzki scored a team-high 30 points and Michael Finley added 25 as the Mavericks avoided elimination, beating the Spurs 112-108. Dallas improved to 4-0 in elimination games in the playoffs. The Mavericks broke out of their shooting slump, connecting on 48.4% of their shots, and kept the rebounding close only getting outrebounded by six boards (47-41). Dallas had six players in double figures and two had double-doubles. Juwan Howard scored 17 points, followed by Calvin Booth with 16 and Shawn Bradley and Steve Nash both with 10. The Mavericks returned to their up-tempo, jump shooting style of play and led by as many as 17 in the first half. San Antonio answered with a 19-4 run that made it a two-point game at the half. The Spurs led by three early in the fourth quarter, but Dallas kept hitting clutch shots every time the Spurs would make a run. San Antonio was led by Tim Duncan who finished with 29 points and 18 rebounds. David Robinson had 25 points and 13 rebounds, while Antonio Daniels added 18 points.

GAME FIVE (MAY 14, 2001) @ ALAMODOME (25,853) — SAN ANTONIO 105, DALLAS 87. Tim Duncan had 32 points and 20 rebounds as San Antonio cruised past the Dallas Mavericks 105-87 to end the Mavericks' run through the playoffs. After blowing a chance for a sweep in Dallas, the Spurs made it clear from the start of this game that they wanted to prepare for the Lakers and not go back up I-35 for a sixth game. Duncan and Robinson threw down dunks for San Antonio's first two baskets and a 3-pointer by Danny Ferry put the Spurs up by double digits within eight minutes. The Spurs, who trailed by 17 early in losing Game 4, made 15 of their first 20 shots and led by at least 11 for the final three quarters. Dallas, which had won four straight elimination games during the postseason, didn't have the energy -- or accuracy -- to come back. Except for Dirk Nowitzki, who scored a career-high 42 points and had 18 rebounds, the Mavericks resumed the inept shooting that cost them the first three games of the series. Michael Finley missed 16 of 17 shots and Dallas was 0-for-11 on 3-pointers.

GAME ONE (APRIL 26, 1990) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM (12,884) — PORTLAND 109, DALLAS 102. The Blazers open their best-of-five series against the Mavericks with a 109-102 win. The Mavericks are within two, 91-89, with 4:28 to play after Derek Harper, who leads Dallas with 24 points, connects on a three-pointer. Thirty seconds later Jerome Kersey hits an 18-footer, beginning a run of nine unanswered points (five by Kevin Duckworth) which allows Portland to build its lead to 100-89 with 1:14 to play. The Mavericks are able to stay close despite Portland outrebounding them 47-33, including 20- on the defensive glass. The Mavericks, who are already without Brad Davis (pulled right hamstring) and Adrian Dantley (fractured right leg), are hampered even further when Rolando Blackman and Roy Tarpley each pick up three first half fouls. Tarpley leads Dallas on the boards with 14 rebounds while adding 22 points and a club playoff record-tying five blocked shots. Portland is led by Terry Porter's 28 points and Buck Williams' 16 rebounds. The game marks the first time the Mavericks have ever opened a first-round series on the road and is the first time Dallas ever lost Game One in the first round.

GAME TWO (APRIL 28, 1990) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM (12,884) — PORTLAND 114, DALLAS 107. For the first time in their playoff history, the Mavericks fall behind 2-0 in the first round, losing to the Blazers, 114-107. The Mavericks jump out to a 15-point lead, 38-23, late in the first period, but reserve guards Drazen Petrovic and Danny Young get the Blazers back into the game by combining for 20-straight Portland points and 22 of the Blazers' first 24 second period points. Petrovic scores nine of Portland's first 11 points in the second period and finishes with 14 points on the night. In the fourth period, Blazers center Kevin Duckworth, whose 18 points leads seven Blazers in double-figures, scores 12 points on six-of-seven shooting as Portland takes a 90-83 advantage. Derek Harper and Rolando Blackman combine for 37 points in the first half, but manage only four in the fourth period. Harper scores two of his team-high 23 points in the second half. The Mavericks allow the Blazers just five offensive rebounds in the second half, after allowing 16 in the first half, but Portland still scores 35 second-chance points in the game. Roy Tarpley leads Dallas with 17 rebounds while also adding 22 points in a club playoff record 48 minutes. The Blazers are led on the boards by Buck Williams' 13 rebounds.

GAME THREE (MAY 1, 1990) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — PORTLAND 106, DALLAS 92. The Mavericks are swept for the first time in their playoff history as the Blazers win, 106-92. Roy Tarpley plays 42 minutes, but misses 10-of-12 shots and six-of-eight free throws and turns the ball over five times. Tarpley, bothered by an upset stomach, finishes with six points and 15 rebounds. Buck Williams misses the final three periods after catching an inadvertent elbow from James Donaldson. Williams suffers cuts above and below his right eye and is taken to Baylor Medical Center with blurred vision. The Blazers are further crippled when Kevin Duckworth has to leave after suffering a broken right hand with two minutes left in the third period. Still, the Mavericks cannot overcome Jerome Kersey (29 points), Clyde Drexler (20 points, 10 assists) and Terry Porter (20 points, nine assists). Dallas is led by Rolando Blackman's 23 points.

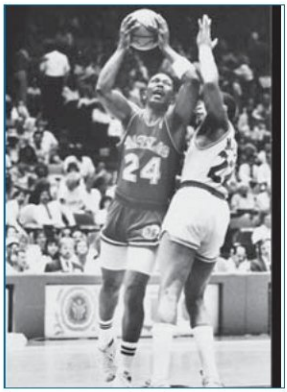
GAME ONE (APRIL 28, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 120, HOUSTON 110. The Mavericks take a 1-0 lead in their first-round series against the Rockets with a 120-110 victory. The Mavericks break open a close game in the second period. Ahead 43-42 with 5:52 left in the first half, Dallas (led by six Roy Tarpley points) goes on an 18-4 run to lead 61-46 at halftime. Houston draws within five, 90-85, with 8:03 to go, but the Mavericks go on a 15-7 run which features baskets by seven different Mavericks (and a free throw by Derek Harper). The Mavericks score 43 points in the fourth period to establish a club playoff record. The win marks the first time the Mavericks have won a playoff game when Mark Aguirre (who finishes with 16 points on six-of-15 shooting) or Rolando Blackman (who scores 15 points on six-of-18 shooting) fails to score 20 points.

GAME TWO (APRIL 30, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — HOUSTON 119, DALLAS 108. Before a national CBS television audience, the Rockets even the series at a game apiece with a 119-108 victory. Sleepy Floyd (42 points) and Hakeem Olajuwon (41) become the second teammates in NBA playoff history to score 40-plus points in the same game. Elgin Baylor (45 points) and Jerry West (41) accomplished the feat for the Lakers on March 19, 1962, at Detroit. Olajuwon also adds 26 rebounds, the most boards ever vs. Dallas in any game. The Rockets lead, 107-105, with 1:34 to play, but the Mavericks do not score again until Brad Davis hits a three-pointer with nine seconds remaining. The Rockets end the game on a 16-5 run as Olajuwon scores eight of those points. The loss comes despite Dallas' bench outscoring the Rockets reserves 41-9.



Mark Aguirre scored 27 of his game-high 38 points in the third period, as the Mavericks eliminated the Rockets, 107-97, in the Summit in Game Four of the 1988 first round.

GAME THREE (MAY 3, 1988) @ THE SUMMIT (16,611) — DALLAS 93, HOUSTON 92. Roy Tarpley scores six of his 17 points in the final 3:46, including the game-winner, a seven-footer on the left side with 1:08 to play, in leading the Mavericks to a 93-92 win over the Rockets in Game Three. The Rockets have a chance to win with :12 to play when Rodney McCray grabs a rebound from Rolando Blackman, but following a Rockets timeout, Hakeem Olajuwon misses a 15-footer and Sam Perkins slaps the ball back towards midcourt as the game ends. The win snaps a five-game road playoff losing streak and is the third road playoff win in club history. Tarpley's 17 points leads the way for Dallas — the fewest points ever by a Mavericks leading scorer in a playoff win.

GAME FOUR (MAY 5, 1988) @ THE SUMMIT (16,611) — DALLAS 107, HOUSTON 97. Mark Aguirre busts out of his series-long shooting slump by setting a Mavericks record (regular season and playoffs) for points in a period with 27 points in the third period of Dallas' 107-97 series-clinching win over the Rockets. Aguirre had averaged 15 ppg on .409 shooting in the first three games of the series, and has just six points on two-of-eight shooting in the first half. Aguirre shoots 10-of-11 (including three-of-four three-pointers) in the third period and finishes with 38 points. The Rockets jump on top early, leading 23-10 with 1:07 to play in the first half. For the series, Hakeem Olajuwon, who has 40 points in Game Four, finishes with 150 points for the series, breaking the NBA record for points in a four-game series, previously held by Bob Pettit of St. Louis (144, set in 1963 vs. Detroit). The win marks the third time in their five-year playoff history that the Mavericks advance to the conference semi-finals.

GAME ONE (MAY 10, 1988) @ McNICHOLS ARENA (17,022) — DENVER 126, DALLAS 115. The Midwest Division champion Nuggets take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven Western Conference semi-finals by defeating the Mavericks, 126-115. Denver shoots 58 percent for the game and goes 26-of-28 from the free throw line as Fat Lever scores a game-high 30 points (12-of-17 shooting) and grabs 11 rebounds. In the final four minutes of the first half and the first four minutes of the second half, the Mavericks are outscored 28-6 and trail by 20, 73-53, with 8:13 to go in the third period. The Mavericks are within eight points late, but Lever hits a three-pointer, just beating the 24-second buzzer, to put Denver up, 120-109, with :54 remaining.

GAME TWO (MAY 12, 1988) @ McNICHOLS ARENA (17,022) — DALLAS 122, DENVER 108. Rolando Blackman scores 31 points and Roy Tarpley chips in 27 points and 13 rebounds as the Mavericks down the Nuggets, 112-108. The win is Dallas' first road win ever in the conference semi-finals (Dallas was 0-7 all-time before this). Rolando Blackman hits a jumper with :03 to go in the third period, knotting the score at 65 and starting a 13-2 Mavericks run which gives them the lead for good. The victory comes despite Mark Aguirre matching his career playoff low with nine points. Fat Lever and Alex English lead Denver with 22 points apiece. The win is Dallas' third on the road this postseason after a 2-12 road record in the club's first four playoff appearances. The win is also Dallas' 57th win (when combining playoffs and regular season), surpassing the 1986-87 record of 56 combined wins.

GAME THREE (MAY 14, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DENVER 107, DALLAS 105. Denver takes a 2-1 lead in the series as Bill Hanzlik hits a layup with :03 remaining to give the Nuggets their first lead of the game and a 107-105 victory. The Nuggets tie the game at 105 with :35 to go when Hanzlik hits a 10-foot jumper. Following a Dallas timeout, Sam Perkins, who scores a Mavericks-high 17 points, misses a floater in the lane, and the Nuggets grab the rebound with :20 to play. In the final 3:04, the Mavericks are outscored 8-2, getting only a Rolando Blackman jumper at 1:17. The Mavericks lose despite outshooting the Nuggets (.500 to .469) and outrebounding them (50-47). Fat Lever records the first triple-double by an opponent in Mavericks playoff history, scoring 11 points with 11 rebounds and 12 assists. Alex English leads all scorers with 23 points.

GAME FOUR (MAY 15, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 124, DENVER 103. Mark Aguirre scores 34 points as the Mavericks tie the series, 2-2, with a 124-103 win. Denver plays without Fat Lever (strained right knee) and Jay Vincent (pulled right calf muscle). Dallas builds its lead to as much as 26 points (95-69) with :24 left in the third period. Dallas outshoots Denver, .546-.402. Roy Tarpley (24 points and 13 rebounds) records his sixth double-double in eight playoff games coming off the bench.

GAME FIVE (MAY 17, 1988) @ McNICHOLS ARENA (17,022) — DALLAS 110, DENVER 106. On the day Roy Tarpley learns he has won the NBA Sixth Man Award, Mark Aguirre, who scored a Mavericks-high 25 points, cans a three-pointer with :19 remaining to give the Mavericks a 110-106 road win and a 3-1 series advantage. The Nuggets, who play without Fat Lever (strained right knee) and Jay Vincent (pulled right calf) for the second-straight game, miss seven-straight fourth period free throws. Dallas' lead is cut to 104-102 with 1:22 to play when Danny Schayes connects on two free throws. Brad Davis then penetrates the lane, drawing Alex English away from Aguirre, who's left open for a three-pointer.

GAME SIX (MAY 19, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 108, DENVER 95. The Mavericks advance to the Western Conference Finals for the first time in their history with a 108-95 win over the Nuggets. The win gives Dallas a 4-2 series win over Denver. Rolando Blackman, who scores 23 points, gives the Mavericks their biggest boost. He scores seven points during a 10-2 run late in the game. Blackman's efforts help offset a brilliant performance by Denver's Alex English, who scores 34 points on 16-of-29 shooting. The Nuggets draw within one point, 94-93, when T.R. Dunn hits a 17-footer from the wing with :30 to play, but that's when Blackman takes over. His driving three-point play with 1:00 remaining puts Dallas up, 101-95. Sam Perkins adds 23 points and Roy Tarpley has 18 points and 19 rebounds off the bench.

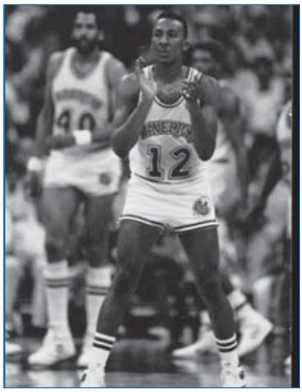
GAME ONE (MAY 23, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 113, DALLAS 98. The Lakers, who lead 52-49 at the half, make 12 of their first 16 shots to begin the third period and build their lead to as much as 76-63 in the third, on the way to defeating Dallas, 113-98, in the Mavericks first-ever appearance in the conference finals. It marks the 10th-straight series in which the Lakers win the opener. Dallas goes on a 15-1 run in the second period to open a 47-42 lead with 4:21 to play in the first half. But Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who scores 13 first half points on six-of-seven shooting from the field, ignites a 7-2 run which gives the Lakers a 52-49 lead at the intermission. Sam Perkins, who scores all eight of his points in the second half, keeps the Mavericks, who shoot just .625 from the foul line, within 61-57 with 8:02 to play in the third. Dallas outrebounds the Lakers (39-31) for the first time in their six meetings this season and Roy Tarpley leads the way with a career playoff high/club playoff record-tying 20 rebounds. Tarpley, Mark Aguirre and Rolando Blackman lead Dallas with 18 points each.



Derek Harper hit a three-pointer with three seconds left to propel the Mavericks to a 110-108 win in Game Three of the 1986 conference semi-finals vs. the Lakers.

GAME TWO (MAY 25, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 123, DALLAS 101. Byron Scott scores 30 points and the Lakers shoot .615 from the field to defeat the Mavericks, 123-101, and take a 2-0 lead in the series. Michael Cooper hits a three-pointer with 10:20 to go in the first half to give the Lakers a lead they never relinquish. Scott, who averaged 29.4 ppg against Dallas in the regular season, scores nine points in the pivotal fourth period, as the Lakers outscore Dallas, 30-22, in the stanza to take a 89-70 lead. Dallas, which for the second-straight game outrebounds the Lakers (36-28), never mounts a serious run in the fourth period as they drop back-to-back games for the first time in the 1988 playoffs.

GAME THREE (MAY 27, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 106, L.A. LAKERS 94. Led by Roy Tarpley, who records the first 20-point/20-rebound game in Mavericks playoff history by scoring 21 points and grabbing 20 rebounds (11 on the offensive end), the Mavericks draw within 2-1 of the Lakers in the series with a 106-94 win. Dallas trails, 76-75, after three, but Sam Perkins scores nine points and Tarpley grabs eight rebounds in the fourth period as the Mavericks outscore the Lakers, 31-18. The Mavericks shoot just .452, but compensate by dominating on the boards, 52-33. Mark Aguirre leads all scorers with 23 points, while adding 10 rebounds. For the Mavericks, who have never fallen behind a series 3-0, it's their first-ever win in the conference finals and gives Coach John MacLeod 45 career playoff wins, moving him past Jack Ramsay into a tie with Alex Hannum for 10th place on the all-time list.

GAME FOUR (MAY 29, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 118, L.A. LAKERS 104. Derek Harper scores 35 points to lead the Mavericks to a 118-104 win over the Lakers and a 2-2 tie in the series. Ahead 89-81 after three periods, the Mavericks outrebound the Lakers, 22-5, in the fourth period and hold the Lakers to just nine-of-20 shooting in the stanza. In a key exchange, Mychal Thompson misses a 12-footer, and James Donaldson grabs the rebound, which leads to a 19-foot jumper by Roy Tarpley to put Dallas up, 101-94. Dallas then holds the Lakers scoreless for nearly three-and-a-half minutes. Harper scores 18 first half points on eight-of-12 shooting to stake the Mavericks to a 57-56 lead at the half. The Mavericks shoot a blazing .549 from the field.

GAME FIVE (MAY 31, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 119, DALLAS 102. The Lakers run off to a 17-point lead at halftime and cruise to a 119-102 victory, and a 3-2 lead in the series. The Mavericks jump out to a 10-4 lead in the first 2:30, but the Lakers then rip off a 20-4 run to take a 24-14 advantage. James Worthy, who paces the Lakers with 28

ncluding seven points coming in the final 3:45 of the half (two 19-foot jumpers and a three-pointer). The Lakers shoot .667 for he first half (26-of-39) and 60 percent for the game (51-of-85). Mark Aguirre leads all scorers with 31 points. Detlef Schrempf prains his right ankle at the end of the third period and is forced to miss the remainder of the series.

GAME SIX (JUNE 2, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 105, L.A. LAKERS 103. The Mavericks come ack from the brink of elimination with a 105-103 win over the Lakers to even the series at 3-3. James Donaldson blocks a James Worthy drive across the lane with three seconds left to protect a 104-102 Mavericks lead. Donaldson grabs the rebound and is ouled by Byron Scott with two seconds left. He makes one-of-two free throws to give Dallas the final margin. Mark Aguirre, who cores just four points with five rebounds in the first half, finishes with a Mavericks-high 23 points and 13 rebounds. Aguirre hits huge shot with 1:28 left, grabbing a miss by Roy Tarpley and converting the follow-up to give Dallas a 104-100 lead. Worthy nakes it a 104-102 game with 1:08 left when he gets inside for a layup. But on a drive with 33 seconds left that would have tied he score, Worthy has the ball stripped by Tarpley. Worthy and Byron Scott lead the Lakers with 27 points each.

GAME SEVEN (JUNE 4, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 117, DALLAS 102. The Mavericks play heir first seventh game ever, but the Lakers pull away in the closing minutes for a 117-102 victory. The Mavericks stay close until ate in the third period when the Lakers go on an 11-3 run and go up 87-77. Dallas is within 100-94 with 5:34 to play, but a ames Worthy dunk with five minutes to play and a tip-in by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar 40 seconds later make it 104-94 and trigger 15-2 Lakers' run which wraps it up. James Worthy scores a game-high 28 points. Mark Aguirre scores 24 points to pace the Mavericks. Aguirre misses nearly three minutes in the fourth period after bending back two fingers on his non-shooting hand and ggravating an injury to his knuckles. James Donaldson scores 15 points and grabs 14 rebounds. Donaldson finishes the series vith a .744 (32-of-43) field goal percentage — an NBA record for a seven-game series. Upon arriving at Dallas/Fort Worth nternational Airport following the Game Seven loss, 4,500 fans crowd the terminal to welcome the Mavericks home. The Lakers o on to beat the Pistons in the championship series — becoming the NBA's first repeat champions since the 1968-69 Boston eltics.

The Mavericks raised their 1986-87 Midwest Division Championship banner prior to their 151-129 win over Seattle in Game One of the 1987 first round.

GAME ONE (APRIL 23, 1987) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 151, SEATTLE 129. Dallas sets 11 club records — including most points scored in a game (151) — and wins Game One going away, 151-129, over the SuperSonics. The Mavericks, who shoot .598 for the game, lead by as many as 32 points (120-88) in the fourth period, before Seattle's offense finally gets on track, scoring 41 points in the final stanza to shave the margin. Rookie Roy Tarpley gets Dallas off to a good start, scoring 12 points on five-of-six shooting with five rebounds in the first half. Tarpley finishes with 25 points and 11 rebounds in 32 minutes off the bench. Ten Mavericks players finish in double figures, tying the NBA playoff record for most players in double figures in one game. Prior to the game the Mavericks raise their 1986-87 Midwest Division Championship banner.

GAME TWO (APRIL 25, 1987) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — SEATTLE 112, DALLAS 110. Former Maverick Dale Ellis hits two free throws with two seconds left and the Sonics even the series, 1-1, with a 112-110 win before a shocked crowd at Reunion Arena. The score is tied at 110 when, with four seconds remaining in regulation, Derek Harper is called for traveling as he attempts to trigger an inbounds pass from the backcourt. Seattle takes control of the ball on their end of the court, and Ellis is fouled by Sam Perkins. Ellis finishes with 32 points, six rebounds and six assists. The Mavericks look as if they are going to take control of the game when they hold an eight point lead with 2:53 remaining in the first half, but Dale Ellis and Xavier McDaniel bring the Sonics to within one, 64-63, at the intermission.

GAME THREE (APRIL 28, 1987) @ THE HEC EDMUNDSON PAVILION (8,150) — SEATTLE 117, DALLAS 107. Dale Ellis scores 43 points and grabs 14 rebounds to push the Mavericks to the brink of elimination as the Sonics prevail, 117-107. Due to a scheduling conflict — an agricultural show at the Seattle Coliseum and the Mariners are occupying the Kingdome — Game Three (as well as Game Four) moves to the Hec Edmundson Pavilion on the campus of the University of Washington. The Sonics build a lead early — leading 26-15 after one period — as the Mavericks go ice cold, going the final 8:55 of the period without a field goal touching the bottom of the net (Brad Davis has a shot goaltended with 40 seconds left). That lead expands to 55-37 at halftime and 89-73 entering the final period. Derek Harper, who leads Mavericks scorers with 30 points, leads a comeback attempt in the fourth period. Harper scores 12 points to cut the Seattle advantage to six points, but free throws by Xavier McDaniel and Nate McMillan ice the game for the Sonics. James Donaldson, who is suffering from a stress reaction in his right leg (aggravated in Game One), is held scoreless with one rebound in 15 minutes.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 30, 1987) @ THE HEC EDMUNDSON PAVILION (8,150) — SEATTLE 124, DALLAS 98. The Sonics outscore the Mavericks, 36-21, to blow open the game and end the Mavericks season, 124-98. The victory means Seattle becomes the first seventh seed to knock off the number two seed since the NBA expanded to a 16-team playoff format in 1983-84. The Sonics jump on Dallas early, scoring 11 of the game's first 13 points and leading 33-21 after one period. James Donaldson misses the game, the first game he has missed in 537 games, due to a stress reaction in his right leg. Tom Chambers leads Seattle with 31 points. Rolando Blackman scores 25 points for the Mavericks while Roy Tarpley grabs 17 rebounds. For the series, Dale Ellis averages 29.5 ppg and eight rebounds.

GAME ONE (APRIL 18, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 101, UTAH 93. The Mavericks offset 3-of-13 shooting in the fourth period by holding the Jazz scoreless in the final 4:40 and win Game One, 101-93. The win marks the first time Dallas held a playoff opponent under 100 points since beating Seattle, 107-96, in Game Four of the 1984 playoffs. Although Mark Aguirre and Sam Perkins combine for just 10-of-29 shooting, Utah's starting forwards, Karl Malone and Thurl Bailey, aren't much better, combining for 14-of-34. The Jazz play (as they will for the remainder of the series) without forward Adrian Dantley (back), who finishes the regular season as the NBA's second-leading scorer at 29.8 points per game, and Darrell Griffith (left foot stress fracture).

GAME TWO (APRIL 20, 1987) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 113, UTAH, 106. Following the same script as Game One, the Mavericks go cold from the field in the fourth period (shooting just five-of-16), but hold Utah to the equally dismal six-of-17 shooting as Dallas takes a 2-0 lead in the series, with a 113-106 win. This marks the first time the Mavericks have ever won the first two games of a playoff series. The Mavericks grab the lead quickly in this one, jumping out to a 10-point lead with 6:44 to play in the first period. Mark Aguirre, who was stricken by back spasms in the final 18 seconds of Game One, plays and contributes 27 points.

GAME THREE (APRIL 23, 1986) @ THE SALT PALACE (11,635) — UTAH 100, DALLAS 98. The Jazz avoid a first-round sweep when rookie Karl Malone hits a turnaround jumpshot with 50 seconds to play to put Utah up for good, 100-98. The Mavericks have a chance to tie, but Rolando Blackman's shot rolls off the rim with one second remaining and Rickey Green grabs the rebound as time expires. The loss marks the Mavericks sixth-straight road playoff defeat. James Donaldson grabs 20 rebounds, becoming the first Maverick to reach that mark in the postseason.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 25, 1986) @ THE SALT PALACE (12,683) — DALLAS 117, UTAH 113. Brad Davis sets an NBA playoff record by shooting five-of-five from three-point range to lead Dallas to a series-clinching 117-113 victory. The Mavericks take a four-point lead into the fourth period and stretch it to as many as 13 points thanks mostly to Davis, who scores 15 of his career-playoff-high 26 points in the final period. Sam Perkins, who had shot just 38 percent in the first three games of the series, explodes from his doldrums by scoring 19 first half points as the Mavericks forge a 55-54 halftime lead. Perkins finishes with 29 points and 12 rebounds.

GAME ONE (APRIL 27, 1986) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 130, DALLAS 116. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 28 points to lead the Lakers to an easy 130-116 victory in the first game of the Western Conference Semi-finals. The Lakers lead, 66-48, at the half and by as many as 25 points midway through the third period. With Kareem scoring 10 first period points, the Lakers score the game's first six points and jump out to a 16-6 lead with 6:58 to play in the first period. The Mavericks, who are outshot 61 percent to 44 percent for the contest, enter having dropped four-of-five regular season meetings between the two clubs. Jay Vincent paces Dallas with 18 points off the bench, but shoots just 6-of-14 in the process.

GAME TWO (APRIL 30, 1986) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 117, DALLAS 113. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 26 points as the Lakers fight off the Mavericks, 117-113, to take a 2-0 lead in the series. With the score tied at 108, Kareem takes over, connecting on three skyhooks in the final 3:17. Dallas builds momentum early, leading by as many as 12 points after Rolando Blackman connects on a 17-foot jumper with 1:29 remaining in the first half. Mark Aguirre scores 28 points, grabs 12 rebounds and hands out seven assists, but fouls out with 5:33 to play in the fourth period and the score knotted at 100.

GAME THREE (MAY 2, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 110, L.A. LAKERS 108. Derek Harper connects on a three-pointer with three seconds left in the game to propel the Mavericks to a 110-108 win and cut the Lakers' lead in the series to 2-1. After a Rolando Blackman layup cuts the Lakers lead to 108-107 with 24 seconds remaining, Blackman immediately fouls Michael Cooper. Cooper misses both free throws with 19 seconds remaining. Mark Aguirre's shot to put Dallas up is short, but when James Worthy attempts to rebound the miss, he loses his balance and hurls the ball over his shoulder to keep from falling out of bounds with it. The ball goes straight to Harper, who connects on a three-pointer with three seconds remaining. Harper, who finishes with 24 points, ties the game with a three-pointer with 1:46 to play, but Byron Scott promptly answers with a three of his own. Harper's heroics are almost two years to the date after he inadvertently dribbled out the clock in Game Four of the 1984 playoff series against the Lakers. Mark Aguirre finishes with 27 points, nine rebounds and eight assists.

GAME FOUR (MAY 4, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 120, L.A. LAKERS 118. Mark Aguirre hits a turnaround jump shot from the left baseline in the final seconds to give the Mavericks a 120-118 win over the Lakers and even the series at 2-2. Aguirre, who scores a game-high 39 points on 19-of-30 shooting, comes out blazing. He scores 21 points in the first period (mostly on long jumpers) as Dallas puts together a 21-5 run in the final 4:20 of the period to take a 45-33 advantage into the second period. Those 45 first period points tie an NBA playoff record for most points in the first period. The Mavericks take an 11-point lead into the fourth period after Bill Wennington beats the third period buzzer and connects on his first career three pointer. Aguirre also dishes out 10 assists.

GAME FIVE (MAY 6, 1986) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 116, DALLAS 113. The Mavericks shoot just 20-of-32 from the free throw line as the Lakers take a 3-2 series advantage with a 116-113 win. Dallas shoots 20-of-33 from the free throw line for the game. The Lakers seemingly have the game salted away in the fourth period, leading 115-110, with five seconds to play, but Brad Davis connects on a three-pointer to bring the Mavericks within a bucket. Following a Mark Aguirre foul with one second to play, James Worthy connects on one-of-two free throws to put the Lakers up, 116-113. Aguirre's desperation heave, however, misses the mark and the Lakers take a 3-2 series advantage. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads all scorers with 34 points, while Mark Aguirre paces Dallas with 27.

GAME SIX (MAY 8, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — L.A. LAKERS 120, DALLAS 107. The Lakers close out the series, 4-2, with a 120-107 win in Reunion Arena. The Lakers lead by as many as 20 points early in the third period, but Mark Aguirre scores 12 of his game-high 28 points to lead the Mavericks to within two, 81-79, with 1:39 to play in the third period. However, with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar tossing in 27 points, the Lakers gradually build the lead back up in the fourth period, and win going away. Aguirre hurts his ankle with 3:09 left in the third, and is able to play only a few minutes in the fourth period before limping off.

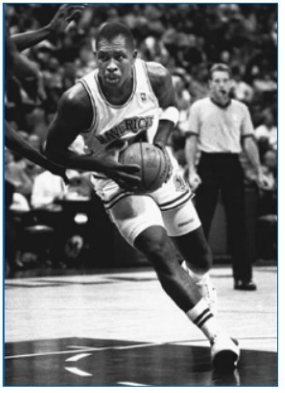
GAME ONE (APRIL 18, 1985) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 139, PORTLAND 131 (2 OT). Rolando lackman breaks Dallas' single-game playoff scoring record with 43 points as Dallas takes a 1-0 lead in the series with a 139-31 win in double overtime. The Blazers seemingly have the game won (they hold a two-point lead with 17 seconds remaining nd possession of the ball), but an errant pass by Mychal Thompson allows Blackman to hit a 13-foot jumper with six seconds emaining in the first overtime. The Mavericks take control in the second overtime, as Blackman scores seven points. Portland akes its largest lead of the game, 53-38, with 2:35 to play in the first half, but the Mavericks retake the lead (88-85) entering he fourth period after an explosive 40-point third period which is highlighted by 12 points by Mark Aguirre. Following a 27-18 ourth period run, Portland takes a two-point lead with 10 seconds remaining in regulation. Blackman, however, hits a four-foot umper in the lane with four seconds remaining to knot the score at 112 and send the game into overtime.

GAME TWO (APRIL 20, 1985) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — PORT-AND 124, DALLAS 121 (OT). The Blazers make up a 10-point deficit in the final :06 of regulation to force overtime en route to a 124-121 victory which ties the eries, 1-1. Clyde Drexler, who watches Rolando Blackman go for his second-straight uting of 40-plus points in the playoffs (Blackman finishes with 41 points), gets evenge by drawing Sam Perkins away from the basket and then hitting a wide-open Mychal Thompson for a layin with one second remaining in regulation, which knots he score at 110 and forces overtime. Portland takes control in the extra period, as he Blazers gain a split in Reunion Arena. Portland outboards Dallas, 62-38.



Mark Aguirre averaged 29 points in the 1985 playoffs vs. the Blazers, including a game-high 39 points in Game Four.

GAME THREE (APRIL 23, 1985) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM 12,666) — PORTLAND 122, DALLAS 109. Kiki Vandeweghe's 10 points own the stretch leads a 22-9 Portland run which breaks open a tight game, and ives the Blazers a 122-109 win and a 2-1 advantage in the series. The Mavericks old their largest lead, 70-61, with 9:09 to play in the third period, but the Blazers torm back, going on a 30-17 run to take a 91-87 lead entering the fourth period. Once again Portland's victory is keyed by board work — the Blazers outrebound the Mavericks, 51-39. Sam Bowie (11 rebounds) and Clyde Drexler (10 rebounds) lead he Blazers. Rolando Blackman and Mark Aguirre each score 30 points in the losing ffort. Vandeweghe scores 24 points to lead the Blazers.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 25, 1985) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM (12,666) — PORTLAND 115, DALLAS 13. Seldom-used Blazers reserve Audie Norris finishes off the Mavericks with a 10-foot baseline jumper with one second remain-ng, giving the Blazers a series-clinching 115-113 win. Norris, who had just six points in the previous three games combined, also its a key shot with 22 seconds remaining to put the Blazers up 113-111. Norris ends the game with nine points in 17 minutes ff the bench. Dale Ellis makes his first start in the playoffs, replacing Jay Vincent, who is mired in a shooting slump. Mark Aguirre eads Dallas with 39 points, 24 of which come in the first half. Rolando Blackman, who has carried the Mavericks for most of the eries, shoots only two-of-13 from the floor, but still manages 17 points.

Rolando Blackman misses a 10-footer, but grabs his own rebound and follows it in from seven feet in traffic with 11 seconds left to propel the Mavericks to an 88-86 win over the Sonics in Dallas' first ever playoff game. Dallas leads 87-86 after Blackman's shot. Seattle has a chance to win, but Blackman and Bill Garnett bother Jack Sikma enough to force the 6-11 center to miss a driving layup. Blackman adds a free throw with one second remaining to give Dallas its final margin. After leading, 83-78, with 6:48 to go, the Mavericks are shut out, 8-0, until a Pat Cummings layup brings Dallas within one, 86-85, with 58 seconds remaining. Gus Williams, who scores an NBA playoff record 23 points in the first period and finishes with 31 points, misses with 35 seconds remaining, and Dallas works the ball to Blackman. Dallas misses the first seven shots of the game and the Sonics jump out to leads of 15-2, 21-6, and their largest lead of the game, 27-11, with 4:15 to play in the first period. Seattle enters the game with 2,280 minutes of playoff experience compared to the Mavericks 146.

GAME TWO (APRIL 19, 1984) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — SEATTLE 95, DALLAS 92. Gus Williams hits a 25-foot three-pointer at the buzzer before a shocked crowd at Reunion Arena, as the Sonics even the series, 1-1, with a 95-92 win. Dallas ties the game at 92 when Pat Cummings hits a jumper with 46 seconds left. Dallas trails by as many as 17 points twice (last time at 52-35 with 3:24 left in the second). The Mavericks become the second team in NBA playoff history to make all its free throws by shooting 24-of-24. Mark Aguirre leads Dallas with 27 points and 17 rebounds. Tom Chambers leads all scorers with 30 points.

GAME THREE (APRIL 21, 1984) @ SEATTLE COLISEUM (10,229) — SEATTLE 104, DALLAS 94. The Sonics outscore the Mavericks, 52-37, in the second half and take a 2-1 advantage in the series with a 104-94 win. Dallas shoots just nine-of-40 (.225) in the second half. Dallas leads, 57-52, at the half behind .500 shooting and 20 points by Mark Aguirre. Aguirre, however, is held to five points on one-of-nine shooting in the second half.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 24, 1984) @ SEATTLE KINGDOME (11,893) — DALLAS 107, SEATTLE 96. The Mavericks take the lead early and even up the series with a 107-96 win in Seattle. Dallas leads from the 7:10 point of the first period. The Mavericks lead by as many as 14 points (79-65) at the end of three periods — the first time in the series Dallas is not trailing after three periods. Mark Aguirre has 12 of his 29 points in the third period and Jay Vincent has 11 of his 21 points in the fourth period. Vincent also chips in 11 rebounds.

GAME FIVE (APRIL 26, 1984) @ MOODY COLISEUM (9,007) — DALLAS 105, SEATTLE 104 (OT). In one of the most memorable games in franchise history, the Mavericks clinch their first ever playoff series with a 105-104 overtime win over the Sonics. For the fourth-straight game the series moves to a new building as World Championship Tennis is booked into Reunion Arena. The capacity crowd at SMU's Moody Coliseum is exactly 8,000 fans less than a Reunion full house. Seattle has its biggest lead at 93-86 with 2:08 left and leads 95-89 with 48 seconds showing. Jack Sikma fouls out with 1:29 left. A pair of Pat Cummings free throws cuts the lead to 95-91 with 47 seconds left. With 22 seconds left, Rolando Blackman steals a Steve Hawes pass and takes it in for a dunk, drawing Dallas within 95-93. With 21 seconds left, Hawes (replacing Sikma) is unable to get off the inbounds pass after a Seattle timeout and Dallas gets the ball back. Blackman makes a jumper at the top of the key with 15 seconds left to tie the score at 95. Danny Vranes misses a tip-in at the buzzer and the game goes to overtime. Blackman scores 13 of his game-high 29 points in the fourth period. Dallas never trails in the overtime and leads, 103-97, with 1:37 left. Seattle then outscores Dallas, 7-2, with Tom Chambers' tip at 0:01 cutting the Mavericks' lead to 105-104. After a Dallas timeout, Jay Vincent is to Referee Mike Mathis signals the game over and the Mavericks leave the court in celebration despite 0:01 still showing on the clock. For the next 14 minutes referees Mathis, Jake O'Donnell and alternate Tommy Nunez discuss the remaining second. O'Donnell's ruling is that Mathis' whistle was inadvertent and the Sonics are given the ball out of bounds with one second. The Mavericks return to the floor and when Mark Aguirre and Kurt Nimphius keep Chambers from getting a lob pass, the game ends.

GAME ONE (APRIL 28, 1984) @ THE FORUM (13,512) — LOS ANGELES 134, DALLAS 91. Less than 48 hours after the thrilling win over Seattle at Moody Coliseum, the Mavericks come out flat and are flattened by the Lakers, 134-91. The Lakers jump out to leads of 10-2 and 30-10. After that, the Mavericks never get closer than 14 points. At the time, the Mavericks only worse defeat was a 48-point loss at Houston in February 1981. Mike McGee's 25 points leads seven Lakers in double figures. Unfortunately, the game is seen nationally on CBS.

GAME TWO (MAY 1, 1984) @ THE FORUM (15,298) — LOS ANGELES 117, DALLAS 101. After the humiliation of Game One, the Mavericks show more resolve but still fall to the Lakers, this time 117-101. The loss gives the Lakers a 2-0 advantage in the best-of-seven matchup. Dallas falls behind 7-0, but unlike Game One, responds to the Lakers' run with an 11-5 spurt of its own. Nonetheless the Mavericks trail the entire way, falling behind 55-50 at halftime and 90-72 after three periods. Magic Johnson has 27 points and 11 assists, while Kareem Abdul-Jabbar adds 22 points and 10 rebounds. Rolando Blackman leads Dallas with 27 points.

GAME THREE (MAY 4, 1984) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 125, LOS ANGELES 115. The Mavericks shoot .567 and down the Lakers, 125-115. Dallas assumes the lead for keeps at 27-25 with 2:17 left in the first period. The Mavericks lead by as many as 19 points on three occasions. Blackman leads the hot shooting with 31 points on 12-of-20 shooting. Dale Ellis and Brad Davis, both mired in playoff shooting slumps, each shoot eight-of-10. One major key comes in the rebounds column, where Pat Cummings outboards Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, 14-7. Ellis' 16 points prove to be the most by a Dallas reserve in the '84 playoffs.

GAME FOUR (MAY 6, 1984) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — LOS ANGELES 122, DALLAS 115 (OT). In the game that is remembered for Derek Harper dribbling out the clock, the Lakers take a 3-1 series advantage with a 122-115 overtime win. With the Mavericks screaming fans getting their first national exposure on CBS, Dallas begins the fourth period by outscoring the Lakers, 15-6, to pull within 96-94 with 7:32 left. Derek Harper ties the game at 98-all with a driving layup at 5:42. The Lakers pull ahead, 105-100, with 3:50 left before a Harper jumper, a Dale Ellis layup and two Harper free throws give Dallas a 106-105 lead with 2:15 to go. A pair of Michael Cooper free throws give the Lakers a 107-106 lead with 1:58 left. At the 0:54 mark, Mark Aguirre leaves the game for good with a badly bruised hip, suffered when he dives after his own missed shot. With 31 seconds remaining, Pat Cummings ties the score at 108 by making an acrobatic finger roll while successfully trying to draw a foul from Magic Johnson. When Cummings steps to the line he has made all 14 of his playoff free throw attempts, but he misfires and the score remains tied. With 12 seconds left in regulation, Kareem misses a sky hook and Blackman grabs the rebound. He passes the ball to Ellis who sends it over to Harper with six seconds left. Harper, believing the Mavericks are up 109-108, dribbles out the clock. Harper shows his toughness by sinking a long jumper to give the Mavericks a 110-108 lead to begin overtime. Dallas leads, 112-108, with 3:43 left in overtime, but when Vincent fouls out with the score 112-all at 3:04, the Lakers regain control. Bob McAdoo scores six points and the Lakers go on to a 10-3 run.

GAME FIVE (MAY 8, 1984) @ THE FORUM (15,644) — LOS ANGELES 115, DALLAS 99. Mark Aguirre, bothered by the hip injury suffered in Game Four, does not start and the Lakers win easily, 115-99, to close out the series. Dale Ellis starts in place of the injured Aguirre. Aguirre enters the game with 1:23 left in the first period and the Lakers leading 30-17. Aguirre finishes with nine points in 14 minutes — the first time he is held under double-figures points all season. Mike McGee leads the way for the Lakers with 27 points.

SERIES NOTES

The Mavericks have won four of the last six matchups in the series and the teams have split the season series the past two years...In their first meeting last season (11/17/01), Houston handed Dallas its worst home defeat in nearly five years (124-87)...Defense was virtually non-existent in the 4/11/95 meeting between the two clubs. The Mavericks 156-147 double-overtime victory was the top team scoring game in club history and also the top opponent scoring game vs. Dallas. The Mavericks 128 field goal attempts were also a team record. Three-point records also fell in the game as Dallas (15-31) and Houston (13-33) combined to set NBA records for 3-pointers attempted (64) and made (28)…Houston's Hakeem Olajuwon was unstoppable in the 4/30/88 first round playoff meeting between the two clubs. Olajuwon scored 41 points and pulled down 26 rebounds as the Mavericks lost Game 2 119-108; however, the Mavericks won the series 4-1.

SERIES NOTES

With a four game sweep of the Grizzlies in 2001-02, Dallas improved its lead in the all-time series against Memphis to 23-4 and they have now won 10 of the last 11 meetings…On 11/4/01, Lorenzen Wright posted 33 points and 26 rebounds, but it wasn't enough as Juwan Howard notched a game-high 36 points, the most a Maverick has scored against the Grizzlies…The matchup on 3/13/99 took on a historical note as the Mavericks' A.C. Green tallied his 1,000th consecutive game played, the longest streak in NBA history…In the 3/1/96 win at Vancouver, the Mavericks set an NBA record for 3-point field goals made in a period with nine in the third.

Series Scoring Record vs. Memphis:

SERIES NOTES

Dallas has won three of the last four meetings with the Heat...On 2/1/01, the Mavericks broke the then-longest losing streak in professional sports with a 95-91 win over the Heat. That broke a streak of 16 consecutive wins for Miami. Later in the season, the Mavericks won in Miami for the first time in 11 years in their first appearance in the American Airlines Arena. The win also marked the Mavs first season series sweep of the Heat since the 1989-90 season…Dallas won the first eight games of the all-time series and nine of the first 11…Jamal Mashburn scored 34 points against his former team, Dallas, in the Heat's 128-105 victory on 11/11/99 in Miami.

Series Scoring Record vs. Miami:
Jamal Mashburn (34 on 11/11/99)
Derek Harper (34 on 3/23/90)

SERIES NOTES

Dallas currently owns a four-game win streak over the Nets, after back-to-back season series sweeps...The Mavericks broke a five-game losing streak by sweeping the series vs. the Nets in 2000-01. That was the Mavericks first sweep of the season series since 1990-91...The Mavs 99-73 victory in New Jersey on 12/10/00 broke a nine-game road losing streak vs. the Nets…NBA records: Former Maverick George McCloud attempted an NBA record 20 3-pointers, connecting on seven, in the 127-117 Mavericks win on 3/5/96. The 49 total 3-point attempts by the Mavericks in the game were also an NBA record. The 18 3-pointers made (18-49) were also a Mavericks team record…Former Maverick Rolando Blackman set two Mavericks free throw records, going 22-23 from the charity stripe in the Mavericks 126-124 win on 2/17/86 in New Jersey.

SERIES NOTES

Dallas has won four of the last seven games; all four victories have been at home…The Mavericks haven't won in Orlando since beating the Magic in overtime 108-102 on 12/2/96…In 2001-02, the pair took turns taking each other to the woodshed, first with the Mavs 22-point win on 12/22/01, then with the Magic's 26-point victory on 1/14/02...Dallas held the Magic to the seventh all-time lowest score for a Mavericks opponent in the 93-76 win on 3/11/99…On 11/13/99, the Mavericks scored a season-high 125 points in the win (125-117). At the time, the 125 points was the largest point production in Don Nelson's Dallas coaching era.

SERIES NOTES

The teams have split the season series in each of the last three years…Dallas won in Portland on 3/28/01 for the first time in 11 tries and for the first time since 4/15/95…The Mavs' Steve Nash scored a career-high 39 points vs. the Blazers on 12/11/01 in a 105-103 win...Shawn Bradley set a Mavericks record with 13 blocked shots in the 4/7/98 loss to Portland. Bradley finished the game with 22 points and a career-high 22 rebounds, recording a triple-double. The 16 total team blocks were also another Mavericks record…The longest game in Mavericks history was a triple-overtime marathon loss in Dallas that lasted three hours and 10 minutes on 12/29/89. In that game James Donaldson grabbed a Mavericks record 22 defensive rebounds. Donaldson also set a Mavericks record 58 minutes played and the Blazers' Clyde Drexler set a Mavericks opponent record with 55 minutes played.

Series Scoring Record vs. Portland:
Mark Aguirre (44 on 2/6/83)
Series Scoring Record vs. Dallas:
Clyde Drexler (41 on 3/14/86)

COMMUNITY

DALLAS MAVERICKS FOUNDATION

MISSION: To assist young people through programs stressing education, good health and skills necessary for their future success.

The Dallas Mavericks possess a strong sense of social responsibility, cknowledging that a community is only as strong as its weakest link. Established in October 1996, the Dallas Mavericks Foundation is dedicated to inspiring and motivating youth to take their education seriously, strive for ealthy bodies and minds, become involved in community service activities, set personal goals, visualize their reams and take responsibility for their own lives and neighborhoods. It is a 501(c)(3) private charity, and lthough it is affiliated with the Dallas Mavericks professional basketball team, is incorporated as a separate busi- ess entity.

It is the intention of the Dallas Mavericks Foundation to do what it can as a grant-making organization to help he Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex be a nurturing environment within which human beings thrive. Because of the igh-profile nature of the sport of basketball and its athletes, we have the opportunity to assist local youth projects nd programs in increasing the opportunities for our youth to live healthy, fulfilling lives. With a solid foundation, ur youth can then go on to make significant contributions to society.

The Dallas Mavericks Foundation supports programs and organizations in the Metroplex which address the com- nunity's most pressing problems involving youth, specifically education, health/fitness, and community service ctivity. In 2001/02, the Foundation granted awards to the following organizations:

A.C. Craig Resource Center ($25,000); Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Fort Worth ($5,020); Bryan's House $31,804); Cook Children's Medical Center ($15,000); Dallas ISD/The Homeless Education Program ($2,000); Delta igma Theta Sorority, Inc./Dr. Betty Shabazz Delta Academy ($5,162); Friends of Children with Down yndrome/The Rise School of Dallas ($10,000); Hoops & Hopes ($35,000); Kent Waldrep National Paralysis oundation ($7,500); Rockwall Volunteer Center ($5,000); and Variety Wheelchair Arts & Sports Association $7,637.50).

During every home game through halftime, the Dallas Mavericks Foundation hosts a silent auction. Items vary rom game to game and include autographed items from a variety of professional sports and other entertainment ields.

COMMUNITY SERVICE PROGRAMS

nformal market research identified the community's priority areas of concern related to youth as education (specif- cally reading, writing, math, science, arts/culture, dropout rate) and health/fitness (exercise, nutrition, mental ealth, need for safe places for kids to play). Partnerships with various corporate sponsors address these issues by upporting the following programs:

Read to Achieve

- Mayor's Summer Reading Program (coordinated by the Dallas Public Library) to encourage youth reading during non-school hours
- Mayor's Back to School Fair to help poverty-level families obtain basic school supplies, receive immunizations, haircuts, etc. in preparation for the new school year
- Monthly Reading Time Outs at selected branches of Dallas Central Libraries with players as celebrity readers and free

- Dallas Morning News Newspapers In Education Serialized Stories (three 15-week stories for entire school year), to provide a reading outlet for youth via the newspapers and to expose them to other national and international news in the process
- Bedtime Stories at Dallas Children's Advocacy Center, a personal reading time-out with players and children of emotional, sexual or physical abuse
- Mavs/IBM computer learning centers to encourage computer literacy skills at Bryan's House and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Dallas/Mesquite branch

Adopted Elementary School Partner in Education program

- Reading Challenge—students rewarded for reading a lot with school player appearance and reading time-out
- Classroom Captain program to recognize and reward perfect attendance and/or A or A- grade achievement
- Canned Food Drive for North Texas Food Bank
- Dallas Symphony Orchestra Amazing Music curriculum to expose youth to performing arts
- Dallas Museum of Art Go van Gogh one hour art programs to expose youth to visual arts
- Mental Health Assoc. of Greater Dallas WHO program to provide youth with problem solving techniques and communications to keep them from becoming victims of emotional, physical or sexual abuse, peer pressure, harassment or kidnapping
- Winners for Life goal setting program to help youth learn the steps to succeed
- Dallas Children's Theatre Curtains Up on Reading Underground Railroad/Civil War study unit for 5th graders for black history awareness and exposure to performing arts
- Hoops for Health fitness awareness program in partnership with the American Heart Association's Hoops for Heart educational unit
- Stay in School/Communities in School program at Spruce High School to help reduce the dropout problem by meeting the needs of at-risk youth
- Recycle with Steve Nash & Nature Naturally Life Sciences program with the Dallas Arboretum to expose youth to the importance of caring for the environment and its effect on all living organisms

TURKEY DUNK -- Thanksgiving Dinner for Homeless Kids

Dallas Mavericks players and coaches and Maggiano's restaurant host the team's annual Thanksgiving Kids Party for local homeless children. The Mavs partnered with Captain Hopes Kids, a non-profit organization whose mission is to meet the critical needs of homeless children, to facilitate the event.

The event features a brief basketball clinic conducted by Mavs players. Homeless children ages 5-14 are invited to participate. All children received a special T-shirt, a meal, and autographs from players; met Mavs Man; enjoyed face painting and received a balloon and goodie bag filled with Nestle candy, books, toys, a pair of new crew socks, a toothbrush and toothpaste, shampoo and other personal hygiene items.

Call A Mav

- Youth may hear Mavs team members reading a segment from a story by calling a specially designated phone line. To read the complete story, youths are encouraged to visit their local library branch and upon return of the book, they will receive a photo of the player who read the story.

Math Matters to the Mavs

To encourage youth to practice for upcoming TAAS tests in a fun manner related to the Mavericks.

Cover the Court/Mark Holtz Scholarship Sports Journalism Program

To encourage writing skills and reward students interested in sports journalism as a career. Last year's winner was Brittny Tabor from Desoto High School.

Fan Pack. Fans interested in general information about the team may request a complimentary fan pack. Please call 214.748.1808.

Speakers Bureau. Mavs television analyst Bob Ortegel headlines the Mavericks Speakers Bureau and is available for speaking engagements in the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex during the season to discuss a variety of topics related to professional sports and/or broadcasting fields.

Fulfillment Program (Charitable Contributions For Non-Profit Fundraising Events). Autographed items/tickets are donated to major fundraisers and auctions in the Dallas area to help them raise needed funds. Smaller items are donated for raffle prizes, incentive prizes, school carnivals, church fundraisers, family reunions, PTAs, etc. As many requests are possible are accommodated with the following criteria used to determine priority: nonprofit is located in Metroplex (primary) or Texas (secondary), organization is a 501(c)(3) entity, and organization focuses on children and families. Because needs in Texas are so great, out-of-state requests are usually declined with the exception of terminally ill individuals, national youth charities, player requests or other pro sport teams (case-by-case basis handling). This year, Dallas Mavericks donated items helped 1,530 groups (up from 1,404 last year) raise $68,771 to benefit their cause (a 435% increase in funds raised from last year—tremendous benefit to nonprofits in the community).

Wheelchair Mavericks

The Dallas Wheelchair Mavericks have been affiliated with the NBA Mavericks since the NBA Mavericks were formed. Prior to 1982, the Wheelchair Mavericks were the Dallas Raiders, a local team formed by two Forces Veterans who had lost their legs in the Vietnam conflict. The Wheelchair Mavericks compete in the first division of the National Wheelchair Basketball Association. The NWBA boasts approximately 200 teams and approximately 2,500 members.

From the 1996-1997 season through the 1999-2000 season, the Wheelchair Mavericks won four straight national championships. In addition to a stellar competitive record, the Wheelchair Mavericks are mindful of the responsibility every elite team has to support the community of which they are a part. Members of the Wheelchair Mavericks undertake a variety of community support activities including supporting the NBA Mavericks' "adopt-a-school" program. With this program Wheelchair Mavericks players visit area schools to spread a message of tolerance and understanding that emphasizes the Mavericks motto that it is "ability and not disability that counts".

Other community activities include assisting the Baylor Institute for Rehabilitation (BIR). BIR rehabilitates people who have experienced a traumatic life event that has resulted in permanent disability. The Wheelchair Mavericks use their skills and life experiences to help patients at BIR to face the new challenge in their life. The Wheelchair Mavericks also support the Scottish Rite Hospital for children by introducing youth with disabilities to the many benefits of disability sport. Wheelchair Mavericks players also promote disability awareness at local universities, where they assist primarily with teacher training programs at the University of Texas at Arlington, the Dallas Baptist University, the Texas Woman's University and Texas Christian University.

NBA COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The NBA is strongly committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on reading and youth programs. Each year the league, its players and its teams donate millions of dollars and hundreds of hours to charities and community outreach programs. Through its extensive outreach programs, team foundations and public service announcements, the NBA is deeply involved in addressing a variety of important social issues in its communities.

Read to Achieve is a year-round program designed to help young people develop a life-long love for reading that reaches an estimated 50 million children a year. It is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports. In addition to a year-round promotional campaign, the effort includes the annual donation of more than 300,000 books through a variety of reading events and book fairs, as well as the creation of locally based Reading and Learning Centers.

With the support of long-time national partners such as RIF and Scholastic Inc., the NBA has created more than 30 Reading and Learning Centers throughout North America in an effort to provide access to reading materials and technology to young people everywhere.

Integral components of the program are national and local All-Star Reading Teams comprised of current and former NBA and WNBA players and other members of the NBA family, who promote reading efforts through in-arena events, Public Service Announcements and community appearances throughout the year.

In recognition of the community outreach and commitment to service of our players, the league has established the Community Assist Award, which honors players whose efforts in the community are truly outstanding. To honor the NBA Player that reflects the passion that the league and its players have for their communities, all 29 NBA teams nominate a player for the Community Assist Award which is presented monthly throughout the year.

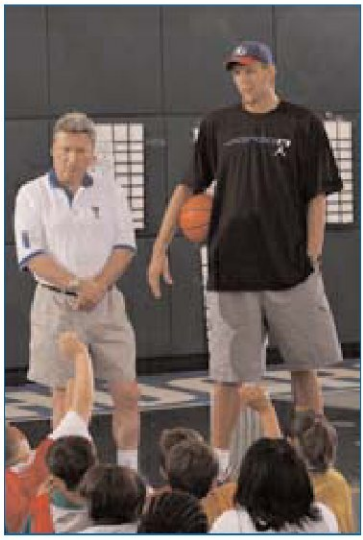
Awarded annually at the conclusion of each league's regular season, the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards recognize players who embody the spirit of sportsmanship. The NBA makes a $25,000 donation on behalf of the NBA Sportsmanship Award honoree, and a $10,000 donation on behalf of each of the three divisional awardees, to the charitable organization of their choice.

The NBA also supports the efforts of Prevent Child Abuse America, and honors the Martin Luther King Holiday, Black History Month, Gallaudet University, the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund and the National Wheelchair Basketball Association.

COMMUNITY BASKETBALL

The Dallas Mavericks work year-round to support and promote basketball throughout North Texas. Among the most comprehensive in the NBA, the Dallas Mavericks Community Basketball programs help develop young basketball players' skills and encourage an enthusiasm for the sport in kids of all ages. The Mavericks Community Basketball programs include Dallas Mavericks Hoop Camp and the Dallas Mavericks Basketball Leagues, part of the Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA program.

HOOP CAMP - "Where Kids Always Win"



The goal of Dallas Mavericks Hoop Camp, presented by NIKE, is to provide a high-quality, fundamental teaching and playing environment for boys and girls ages 8-18. Hoop Camp kids have the opportunity to work with excellent basketball teachers and coaches and improve by learning and playing in an intensive, yet enjoyable, one-week camp.

Dallas Mavericks Hoop Camp began in 1994 with five camps and 465 kids. Community demand has driven the program to grow each year. In the summer of 2002, over 2,500 kids participated in the 14 camps offered at various locations throughout the Metroplex. In addition, the Mavericks have one all-scholarship Hoop Camp every summer where 100 kids enjoy a free camp experience.

The number one priority at camp is the participants. Camp sizes are limited and maintain a player-to-coach ratio of less than 10:1. The hand-picked Hoop Camp coaching staff is made up of professional teachers and coaches who have demonstrated a proven ability to work with kids and help them improve. Camp highlights include daily awards and prizes for every camper, as well as visits from special guest speakers, including Mavericks players and coaches.

Each year the Mavericks Ballboys and Ballgirls are selected from Hoop Camp attendees. These hard-working, bright and dedicated Hoop Camp kids are chosen every year to work at Mavericks games to reward them for their efforts and dedication to the Mavericks. Its a great opportunity for the kids and helps the team identify good workers for the future.

Sponsors for Hoop Camp include NIKE, Academy Sports & Outdoors, AT&T Broadband, Dr Pepper Bottling Company of Texas, Gatorade, North Texas Ford Dealers, McDonald's, Memories Sports Photography, Outback Steakhouse, Smoothie Factory, ESPN Radio 103.3 FM, Radio Disney and UPN Ch. 21.

MAVERICKS BASKETBALL LEAGUES

The Dallas Mavericks Basketball League program, part of the NBA's Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA program, assists recreation organizations in running quality basketball leagues for players of all ages. Inviting agencies to team up with the Mavericks, the Dallas Mavericks Basketball League program provides team apparel, posters, instruction and the opportunity to attend Mavericks games.

Beginning its 10th year, the Dallas Mavericks Basketball League program works with agencies all across North Texas. In 2001-02, 36 local agencies representing more than 40,000 kids enjoyed the benefits of teaming up with the Mavericks and participating in the Dallas Mavericks Basketball Leagues, making the Mavs program the largest NBA Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA program.

Membership in the Dallas Mavericks Basketball League also brings with it the benefits of the NBA's new youth basketball initiative, the Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA program. The initiative works in concert with the Dallas Mavericks

Basketball League program, and using the resources of the NBA and WNBA to serve youth basketball leagues contributes a uniquely integrated basketball curriculum for players, parents and coaches.

Sponsors of the Dallas Mavericks Basketball Leagues include NIKE, Outback Steakhouse and Taco Bell. For more information on any of these programs, visit dallasmavericks.com or call 214-747-MAVS.

MAVERICKS STREET TEAM

The Dallas Mavericks bring the fun and excitement of the NBA to the streets of the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex with the Mavericks Street Team. The Dallas Mavericks Excursion provided by the North Texas Ford Dealers, the Street Team's primary mode of transportation, is a traveling interactive basketball experience that sports a customized paint job in Mavericks colors, flat-screen video monitors and a state-of-the-art sound system with CD/DVD equipment and Playstation 2, as well as a public address system. The custom-designed SUV is ready and able to entertain anywhere, presenting the unique sights and sounds of Mavericks basketball.

The Dallas Mavericks Big Shoe Inflatable, presented by Fox Sports Net, is another great Street Team attraction. This inflatable, interactive device measures 19' x 12' x 7' and features a shooting game that provides fun for Mavericks fans of all ages. Fans can practice their free throws, jumpshots and three-pointers or compete against their friends in a 30-second shooting challenge.

The Mavericks Street Team takes the excitement and entertainment of NBA basketball to neighborhoods throughout the Metroplex. Offering basketball contests, clinics and great prizes, it is non-stop fun for everyone. Call (214) 747-MAVS to schedule an appearance by the Mavericks Street Team. The Mavs Street Team is sponsored by Car Toys, Gamestop, North Texas Ford Dealers, State Farm and Valvoline.

MAVERICKS DANCERS

The Dallas Mavericks Dancers are in their 14th year of entertaining basketball fans. Considered among the best in the NBA, the 2002-03 squad includes professional dancers who, for the seventh consecutive year, will appear at all Mavericks home games. The Dancers are also very active in the community, making numerous public appearances throughout the Metroplex.

Shella Sattler (right), a widely-respected and experienced dance instructor and choreographer, is the director of the squad. Sattler, a former Mavericks and L.A. Clippers dancer, also owns and operates the Dallas Power House of Dance. In addition to dancing with MC Hammer, Run DMC and Snap, she also won more than $100,000 in a dance team competition on TV's Star Search.

Sponsors for the Dallas Mavericks Dancers include Beauty Brands, the official salon and spa of choice for the Dallas Mavericks Dancers; Becca Sport; Capezio at the Pavilion and Planet Tan. The Dallas Power House of Dance is the official training facility for the Dallas Mavericks Dancers. For more information please call (972) 960-2484 or visit www.dallaspowerhouse.com.

Mavs Man, the Dallas Mavericks high-flying crusader of the court, continues to grow in popularity with children throughout the Metroplex and around the world.

In his seventh season with the Mavericks, Mavs Man has taken his unique brand of high-flying entertainment to hundreds of thousands of people each year in places such as London, Mexico City, New York City and Paris.

In addition to his game-day theatrics and autograph signings, Mavs Man appears at local schools, hospitals, parades and community events. He is a goodwill ambassador who exemplifies the positive values of good sportsmanship, teamwork and having a great attitude. Mavs Man inspires and motivates kids to shoot for success in life by being accountable for doing their best in all aspects of their lives.

Mavs Man is available throughout the year to help make your event more memorable. Call (214) 658-7166 to schedule a special appearance by Mavs Man. Be sure to check out the fun games, photos and additional information on Mavs Man's personal Web page at dallasmavericks.com. Mavs Man is sponsored by North Texas Ford Dealers.

Mavs Man is the Mavericks high-flying crusader of the court.

MAVERICKS MANIAACS

The Mavs ManiAACs, the newest additions to Mavericks entertainment, are beginning heir first full season as the hip-hop dance troupe of beefy men who entertain fans dur-ng home games. The self-proclaimed Mavs fanatics are directed by Shella Sattler, lirector of the Mavs Dancers.

Originally created to enhance the game experience for Mavs fans during the 2002 layoffs, the ManiAACs became instant fan favorites and will continue adding to the estive environment of Mavs games during the 2002-03 season.

MEDIA

MEDIA INFORMATION

Welcome to the 2002-03 Dallas Mavericks season. Here are a few guidelines that should assist you during the season.

MEDIA INFORMATION

There are three media credentials honored for admission to the American Airlines Center: 1) Mavericks season media passes; 2) Mavericks single-game passes; and 3) 2002-03 NBA working media passes. NO OTHER CREDENTIALS WILL BE HONORED.

Application for season or game credentials may be made by faxing the Mavericks PR Office at 214.658.7121 or by calling 214.658.7126.

Requests for single game credentials must by made at least 24 hours prior to game time. Day-of-game requests will not be honored. Radio stations, magazines and weekly newspapers will be accommodated on a game-by-game, space-available basis. All requests must be made on company letterhead.

FAX

Visiting media needing a box score or other information faxed back to their office should contact any member of the Mavericks PR staff during the game.

LOCKER ROOMS

Both the Mavericks and the visitors locker rooms are located on the event level in American Airlines Center. The Mavericks locker room is located on the south side of the building (to the left if you are standing behind the scorers' table). The visitors locker room is located on the east side of the building (behind you looking at the court from behind the scorers' table). As per NBA regulations, the Mavericks locker room will be open for a 45-minute period, ending 45 minutes prior to game time (for example, the locker room will be open from 6:00 p.m.-6:45 p.m. for all 7:30 p.m. starts). The locker room will re-open 10 minutes after the game. During postgame media sessions, priority must be given to those media outlets on deadline. Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a working atmosphere in the locker room at all times. Any media members using their credentials to gain locker room access for the purpose of obtaining autographs will have their credentials revoked immediately.

GAME NOTES

Game notes are available in the media workroom two hours prior to game time. (For visiting media, early game notes, credentials, programs and recent news clips will be delivered to their hotel the night before.) Game notes, statistics and play-by-plays are available from the Mavericks PR staff or in the media workroom. Postgame quotes, notes and stat books will be delivered to the media workroom as soon as possible after the game.

PHONES

There are numerous credit card telephones available at courtside and in the media workroom for visiting media.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Credentialed photographers are allowed to shoot from the baselines only. There are no photo positions along the sidelines. Freelance photographers will not be credentialed unless they are on specific assignment from a magazine or daily newspaper. No roving passes will be issued.

Please note the following photo regulations:

Please sit in your assigned spot on the floor. Photo seating charts will be posted around the media room and the floor.
Please do not move from your position during game action. Movement is permitted only during timeouts and quarter breaks.
Please store all coats, jackets and extra equipment in the photo workroom.
Please keep your courtside equipment to a minimum.
All still and TV photographers must observe the NBA's mandatory "Three-Foot Lane" rule.
Please be aware of the following NBA-enforced regulations: All still and TV cameras must have rubber-capped lenses. Cameras mounted on the basket standard must be set back at least four inches from the edge of the padding. Camera mounted behind the backboard cannot be visible inside the target box from any angle. Tripods and remote cameras placed on the court are not permitted. Use of a flash is not permitted.

PRACTICES

The Mavericks practice at American Airlines Center. On off-day practices, media will be allowed to watch practice for the final 30 minutes. Following practice, players will be available on the court for 15-30 minutes. Head Coach Don Nelson will be available immediately following practice on the court. Mavericks practices are always subject to change. Media wanting to cover practice should always contact the Mavericks PR office to confirm times.

HDNET

In September of 2001, Mavericks owner Mark Cuban launched HDNet, the world's first national television network broadcasting all of its programming in spectacular high-definition television (HDTV). In only a year, HDNet has emerged as the leading provider of high definition sports, entertainment and news programming, winning the hearts of HDTV owners and industry players, and leading thousands more to make the switch to HDTV.

HDTV provides the highest level of digital broadcast quality available, delivering crystal-clear resolution in a widescreen 16:9 picture format (16 units wide by 9 units high, compared with the 4:3 format of standard television sets). The result is "just like being there."

"When you watch a Mavericks game in HD, the picture is so clear you can see the expression on Steve Nash's face as he drives down the court, and you can make out the faces of the fans in the stands," said Mark Cuban, who founded HDNet along with Phil Garvin. "The widescreen viewing allows you to watch the play develop in the backcourt while keeping an eye on the action under the basket. Once you see the stunning quality of HDTV, you'll never want to go back to analog."

HDNet's full schedule of sports, entertainment and news programming is available on DIRECTV channel 199, and is free to all DIRECTV customers with a high definition television set, receiver and elliptical dish. Mavs fans can find HDNet on display on HD monitors in the American Airlines Center, and in more than 1,500 retail stores and sports bars around the country.

Sales of high definition TV sets are on the rise, as prices drop and more great programming from HDNet an other networks is available. The Federal Communications Commission is proposing legislation to push broadcasters and TV manufacturers to expedite the transition to digital. The change is inevitable, and HDNet is leading the way. This winter HDNet will launch three new premium networks: HDNet Sports, HDNet Entertainment and HDNet Movies, each with 24x7 broadcasts, all in beautiful HDTV.

To join the HDTV revolution, visit www.hd.net, call 1-800-DIRECTV or visit your local retail store.

WHAT HDNET VIEWERS ARE SAYING

"After seeing HDNet at a local electronics store, I bought a HD receiver and made the switch to DIRECTV. WOW! HDNet is everything I could ask for ... a stunning picture along with great programming. My only regret is that I waited so long to make the move."
James, Tulsa, OK

"Baseball on HDNet brought me a new appreciation for the game…"
Travis, San Diego, CA

"We looked around at many tvs and finally ended up in an upper-scale store that was broadcasting HDNET – our jaws dropped to the floor. What was once skepticism turned to enthusiasm as my wife and I were sold on HD technology for the future and HDNET! Thank you for your expense and time in creating and delivering one-of-a-kind entertainment that is night and day to analog and standard digital programming."
Kevin, Sterling, VA

BROADCAST INFORMATION

MAVERICKS TELEVISION

For the second season, Mavericks fans can watch the team in Dallas on KTVT CBS-11 or UPN-21. CBS-11 will televise five games while 25 games will be seen on UPN 21. Each broadcast includes a half-hour pregame show. Matt Pinto, Bob Ortegel and former Maverick Derek Harper call the action. The Mavericks respected production team, led by veteran producer Jim Feldman, director Clay Armstrong and associate producer Tom Stoner, also returns for another season.

Fox Sports Net is once again the cable home of the Mavericks for 49 games this season. These telecasts are integrated with Fox Sports Network national programming, bringing the viewers scores, highlights, interviews and features from around the league before, during and after game broadcasts.

MAVERICKS RADIO

The Mavericks home on radio in the Metroplex is ESPN 103.3 FM (KESN). ESPN will broadcast all preseason and regular season games. For the second consecutive season, all regular season games and the four home preseason games will be broadcast in Spanish on 1270 AM KESS.

Mark Followill is in his second season as the Mavericks radio play-by-play announcer on ESPN 103.3 and will again be joined by Brad Davis. Each broadcast begins with a comprehensive 90-minute pregame show and will conclude with a 30-minute postgame show.

Once again the Dallas Mavericks will be broadcasting all regular season games and four preseason home games on 1270 AM KESS. KESS is owned and operated by Hispanic Broadcasting Corporation, a quality-driven radio broadcast group committed to being the premier marketing company dedicated to serving Hispanics in the major United States Hispanic markets. Edgar Lopez is in his fourth season as the play-by-play announcer on KESS.

BASKETBALL PR STAFF

GREGG ELKIN

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL COMMUNICATIONS

Gregg Elkin is in his fourth season with the Mavericks as the organization's director of basketball communications.

The St. Charles, Ill., native came to Dallas after spending eight years (1991-1999) as the director of basketball media relations at Indiana University, where he worked for Hall of Fame head coach and current Texas Tech coach Bob Knight. At Indiana he earned national awards for his work and publications. He has also worked in the media relations office at Wisconsin and UNLV.

A 1988 graduate of Arizona State, Elkin and his wife, Beth, are the parents of twins, Jaret and Anna (5/5/98) and reside in Carrollton. His hobbies include playing golf and watching the Chicago Cubs and Baltimore Orioles. gregg.elkin@dallasmavs.com

SARAH MELTON

MANAGER OF BASKETBALL COMMUNICATIONS

Sarah Melton is in her fourth full season with the Mavericks basketball communications department and her first as the team's manager of basketball communications.

The Ft. Wayne, Ind. native is a 1999 graduate of Indiana University with a degree in Sports Communications.

At Indiana, she worked in the school's sports information office for over three years and worked with such sports as the school's national championship men's soccer team and the men's basketball team. She also was the communications director of three Big Ten swimming and diving championships. sarah.melton@dallasmavs.com

SEAN McCLOSKEY

COORDINATOR OF BASKETBALL COMMUNICATIONS

Sean McCloskey is in his first season with the Mavericks as the team's coordinator of basketball communications. The native of Bucks County, Pennsylvania is a 1999 graduate of Penn State University with a degree in Journalism.

For the past two seasons he has been with the Orlando Magic, first as their Radio Broadcasting intern, serving as the sideline reporter during the 2000-01 campaign, and as an intern with their Media Relations department this past season.

McCloskey is single and resides in Dallas. sean.mccloskey@dallasmavs.com

MAVERICKS BROADCASTERS

MATT PINTO

TELEVISION PLAY-BY-PLAY

Matt Pinto is in his second season as the Mavericks' television play-by-play voice and his sixth overall with the team. Pinto moved to television last season after spending the last four years as the radio voice of the Mavericks. Dallas fans have become accustomed to enjoying Pinto's high-energy, exciting and unique calls of Mavericks games and that did not change with the switch to television.

In addition to helping the Mavericks with various community projects, he is on the Board of Directors for the Carrollton/Farmers Branch Boys & Girls Club. Pinto also oversees and does training for Torch Leadership Workshops for teenagers ages 13-17.

Before joining the Mavericks, Pinto was program director and afternoon drive sports talk show host for Sports Radio WFNZ 610 AM in Charlotte, N.C. He was the radio voice of the Charlotte Hornets from 1990-91 through 1995-96, also hosting the nightly "Sports Huddle" on Hornets flagship station, WBT. Pinto's extensive sportscasting background includes play-by-play stints as the radio voice of University of Hawaii men's sports, Boston College basketball, Brown football, Hawaii Islanders and Pawtucket Red Sox AAA baseball, and UCLA women's basketball. Pinto also served as a television sports anchor on CBS-TV affiliate KGMB-TV in Honolulu for three years. He has been heard nationally on Westwood One college basketball and ESPN Radio "Game Night" broadcasts.

The 40-year-old Boston native lives in Flower Mound with his wife, Elizabeth, and two children, Tamara (6/9/83) and Daryl (4/5/85).

BOB ORTEGEL

TELEVISION COLOR ANALYST

Bob Ortegel is in his 15th season as the Mavericks television analyst and his second paired with play-by-play announcer Matt Pinto. Ortegel is in his 22nd year as a TV basketball analyst, having also worked games for ESPN, ABC, the Raycom Southwest Conference basketball game-of-the-week and the Missouri Valley Conference game-of-the-week. In addition to his television responsibilities, Ortegel headlines the Mavericks Speakers Bureau.

Ortegel served as head basketball coach at Drake from 1974-81. Prior to that he was an assistant coach at Drake from 1971-74. After leaving Drake, Ortegel spent 14 years in the corporate world, working as an executive with ShowBiz PizzaTime, Inc. and Merle Harmon's FanFair.

Ortegel spent the 1970-71 season as an assistant coach at Illinois State under head coach Will Robinson. While at Illinois State, Ortegel coached current Washington Wizards head coach Doug Collins.

Robert Frank Ortegel was born on 9/15/40 in Evanston, Ill. He graduated from Bradley with an education degree, where he also played basketball. He later added a master's degree in education from Northern Michigan, where he also served as an assistant coach. Ortegel, who resides in Grapevine, has four grown daughters, Kim, Kari and identical twins, Mindi and Missi. He is also the proud grandfather of seven.

DEREK HARPER

TELEVISION ANALYST

On of the Mavericks all-time great players, Derek Harper, returns to the organization this season as a television analyst for the Mavericks, joining Matt Pinto and Bob Ortegel in the three-man booth.

Last season Harper was part of the Mavericks pre- and post-game shows on CBS-11 and UPN-21.

Harper, who was a first-round pick of the Mavericks in 1983, spent his first 11 seasons with Dallas before moving onto the New York Knicks in January of 1994. He returned to the Mavericks for the 1996-97 season and retired following the 1998-99 season, which he spent with the Los Angeles Lakers.

Harper ranks third on the Mavericks all-time scoring list, second in games played behind former teammate Brad Davis, and first all-time in assists, steals, and three-pointers made. He was also named to the NBA All-Defensive second team in both 1987 and 1990 and shares the NBA Finals single-series record for most three-point field goals made with 17 (New York vs. Houston, 1994).

Harper and his wife, Sheila, live in Carrollton with their three children, Dana, Darius and Danielle.

MARK FOLLOWILL

RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY

Mark Followill is in his second season as the radio play-by-play voice of the Mavericks on ESPN 103.3 FM.

Followill came to the Mavericks after having worked for the last seven years at KTCK in Dallas where he co-hosted a nightly talk show, served as sports anchor for the afternoon drivetime's show The Hardline and hosted the Dallas Cowboys pre- and post-game shows from 1995-2000. Followill served as the play-by-play voice for SMU football in 1999 and 2000 on KTCK as well.

Followill served as the team's temporary play-by-play voice for two seasons in 2000 and 2001. He was also the host of the team's pre- and postgame shows for last two years.

Prior to working at KTCK, Followill worked at the Texas State News Network, KTOK in Oklahoma City and KDNT in Denton, Texas. Followill attended North Texas from 1989-92 where he worked at the campus radio station KNTU.

Followill and his wife, Elizabeth, live in Bedford.

BRAD DAVIS

RADIO COLOR ANALYST

Brad Davis, who over the last 22 years has served the Mavericks as a player, coach and community services/camps representative, is in his sixth season as the club's color analyst on ESPN 103.3 FM. Currently, Davis is in his third full season with the current coaching staff as a player development coach. His complete bio can be found on page 12.

EDGAR LOPEZ

SPANISH RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY

Edgar Lopez is the Dallas Mavericks first Spanish play-by-play announcer and is in his fourth year. Prior to arriving in Dallas, Lopez worked for seven years (1991-98) in the Chicago sports media market. While in Chicago, he served as one of the Spanish language voices of the Chicago White Sox and as a radio analyst for the Chicago Bulls on WIND. Prior to that, he was Sports Director for WONX where he hosted a morning sports talk show. He also served as a boxing analyst for WSNS-TV.

Lopez moved to Dallas in 1998 where he served as sports anchor for KFWD-TV. In the summer of '98, he joined the Dallas Cowboys as host of their Spanish television specials and sideline reporter for the Cowboys Spanish language radio network.

Presently, Lopez is the Sports Marketing Director for 1270 KESS Radio. The 37-year-old Lopez was born in Santurce, Puerto Rico, and was a javelin thrower in the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics. He and his wife, Evelyn, currently reside in Arlington with their daughters Gabriella Sofia and Daniella Isabella.

CHRIS ARNOLD

SIDELINE REPORTER

Chris Arnold has been an integral part of the Mavericks broadcasting department since 1996.

For the last six seasons he has served as the Mavericks courtside reporter for the team's cable and on-air broadcasts. This season Arnold will work as the team's in-arena courtside reporter. He also continues to be involved in many of the teams off the court promotions in a variety of functions including public speaking, marketing initiatives and other broadcasting endeavors.

Arnold has been a fixture in the Dallas/Ft. Worth market since 1980. As sports director of K104FM, he can be heard every weekday morning as part of the "Skip Murphy & Company" show. His 22-year stint at K104 is the longest uninterrupted weekday tenure of any radio sports figure in the area. Chris also hosted his own sports talk show for four and a half years, 1994-99, on sports radio 1310 KTCK "The Ticket".

In addition to his Mavericks broadcast duties, his television experience included freelance work as a sports reporter for five years, 1991-96, at WFAA-TV where he picked up a regional Sports Emmy award for his work.

At age 14, Arnold began his career at WLOK-AM in Memphis, Tenn. He continued working in radio and television while earning a bachelor of arts degree in journalism at Oklahoma in 1980.

Arnold is a popular speaker at area schools, civic groups and charities.
